Son Of Mussolini Killed In Experimental Flight

Bruno, 23, Rated As One Of Country's Veteran Pilots

ROME, Aug. 7.—Bruno Mussolini, second son of Il Duce, one of the leading pilots in Italy's air force and veteran of three wars at the age of 23, lost his life today in an air crash near Pisa.

The young flier was killed when piloting an experimental type of fighting plane.

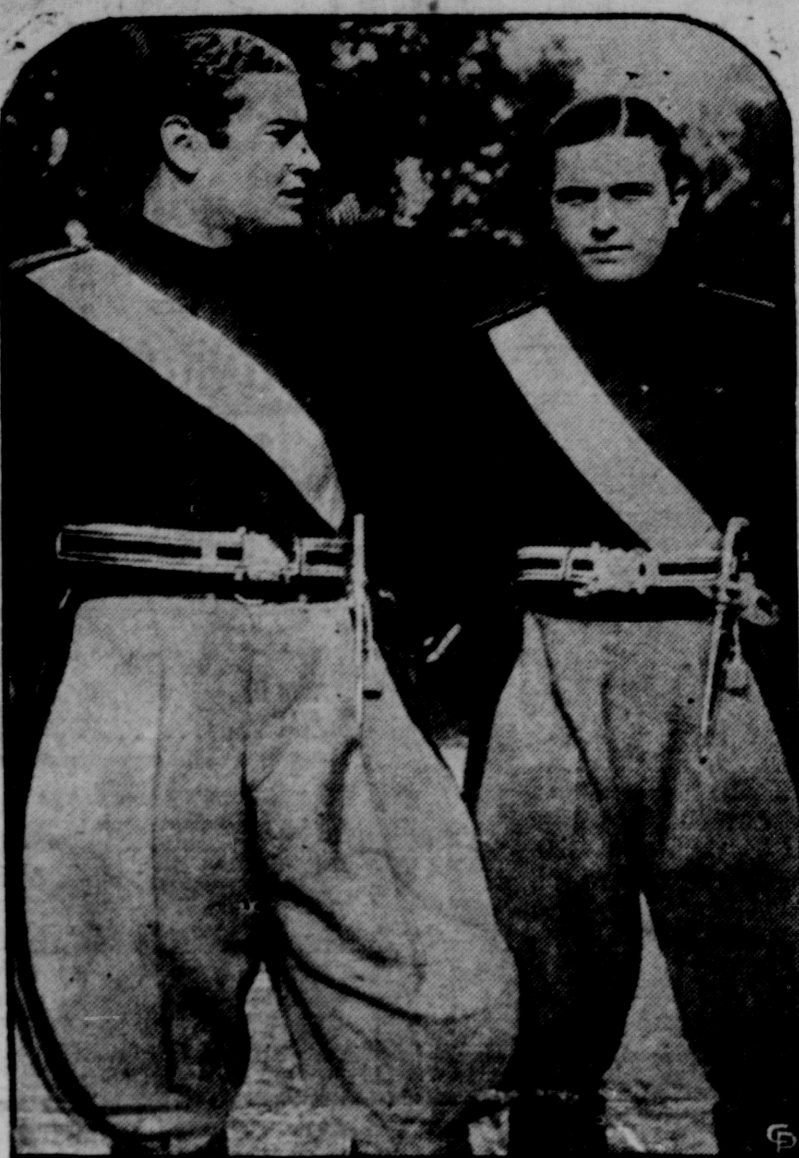

King Victor Emmanuel immediately sent a message of condolence to Premier and Signora Mussolini.

In announcing Bruno's death at 10 o'clock this morning, Italian officials disclosed that he took part in recent Italian dive-bombing attacks on convoys in the Mediterranean.

The young aviator leaves a widow and a baby daughter.

Young Mussolini, a veteran of the Ethiopian and Spanish campaigns, was believed on active duty at the time. He had been flying with a bombing squadron since Italy's entrance into the war June 10, 1940.

The premier's son had been an aviator since May, 1935, when he became the youngest licensed pilot in Italy. He was then only 17.

Flew Atlantic

In 1938, Bruno Mussolini led an Italian air squadron on a 2,500 mile flight from Rome across the Atlantic to Dakar, French West Africa. The flight, which eventually ended at Rio De Janeiro, was an experimental journey to test the long-distance capabilities of Italian built war planes.

Bruno was the second son of Premier Mussolini. He joined the Fascist movement in 1927, when he was inducted into the Balilla, or junior corps, at Milan. In succeeding years he learned to fly and to drive high-powered racing cars, a pastime that his father enjoyed equally well until a short time ago.

With his elder brother Vittorio, Bruno took part in the 150-mile Agropontino auto race in 1937, finishing third.

As a full-fledged war pilot, Bruno was one of the first Italian officers to fly in the Ethiopian war. On two occasions, his plane was struck by bullets but he escaped unscathed.

For six weeks during the Spanish civil war, Bruno flew as an Italian air force lieutenant as part of a force of some 500 German and Italian aviators. He was recalled to Rome in November, 1937.

False Report Made

In mid-December of last year, a false report from Athens said Bruno had been killed in a Fascist air raid on Salonika, Greece.

Young Mussolini was married in October, 1938, to Gina Ruberti, daughter of the director of the Italian department of fine arts.

BUSINESS AREA TO BE MARKED FOR VEHICLES

Officials Split, 4 To 2, In Action Following Third Reading Of Measure

METERS TO BE PLACED

Operation Of New Uptown System May Be Delayed For Some Time

A new parking system, voted by a city council that spent several months in thorough study of all proposals offered, was adopted Wednesday evening by a vote of four to two. Councilman Frank Lynch was ill and unable to participate in the important meeting.

The new system means that Circleville district motorists will park parallel with curbs in the business district, and that meters will govern the length of time used by each automobile in the uptown area, the latter ordinance having passed, four to three, several weeks ago.

Voting for the parallel ordinance were Councilmen George Crites, Julius Helwagen, J. Donald Mason and William M. Reid. Opposed were Clarence Helvering and Ben H. Gordon.

The new ordinance will provide for parallel parking on Main Street from Western Avenue to Washington Street and on Court Street from High Street to Mound Street. Also included under the parallel ruling are Watt Street, Scioto Street, Pinckney Street and Franklin Street.

Amendment Falls

Final vote came after Councilman Gordon had attempted to amend the ordinance to read diagonal parking instead of parallel.

"The parallel system will only add to our present congestion and will not solve our parking problem," he told his colleagues. He pointed out that additional revenue could be secured through the installation of more meters under the diagonal system. Gordon's amendment was dropped when he failed to get a second to his motion.

Vote on the parallel ordinance came after its third reading. Additional traffic legislation was stalled, however, when Council refused to suspend the rules and vote after first reading on an ordinance authorizing the service director to advertise for bids for (Continued on Page Nine)

U. S. SERVICE TO ENTER DISPUTE OVER SALARIES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—The United States Conciliation Service stepped into the limelight today in the wage dispute involving nearly 30,000 workers at the huge Vega-Lockheed aircraft plants in Burbank.

Conciliation Commissioners Lyman D. Sisley was named to mediate the case after the A.F.L. International Association of Machinists appealed to government officials.

In the first step to stabilize wages in Southern California aircraft plants, the affiliated Vega-Lockheed companies, offered a contract giving beginners 60 cents an hour and 75 cents at the end of three months. Union negotiations demanded 75 cents an hour starting pay and a 12-cent an hour blanket increase in all departments.

SOLDIER MISSING

A man who gave his name as Lester Jester, Circleville Route 1, on military duty in one of the southeastern states, was reported missing Thursday by military authorities. Anyone with information concerning his whereabouts should be asked to contact Miss Agnes Butch, Pickaway County Red Cross Secretary.

Axis Squeeze Play on India

SHOWN under the magnifying glass is Iran (Persia), where heavy infiltration of "German tourists" during recent months has alarmed Britain. Iran, as the map shows, is a gateway to India on one side and to the oil of Iraq and the Russian Caucasus on the other. Meantime Japan is reported demanding bases from Thailand, which would make a drive through Burma possible.

WORK ON NAVAL TWO INJURED AT CRAFT BLOCKED GRADE CROSSING

17,000 Laborers At Ship Yard In East Strike; Company Blamed

KEARNY, N. J., Aug. 7.—Work on defense contracts totaling $450,000,000 in the Kearny yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company was halted today when the CIO's Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers called a strike of the 17,000 employees.

Failure of the shipyard, second largest on the east coast, to accept National Mediation Board proposals for the settlement of a two-month-old labor dispute was cited by the union as the cause of the walkout. The CIO is seeking a union shop and reclassification of 1,500 employees.

The strike began officially at midnight when 3,000 men of the night shift left the yards at the end of their night's work and 3,000 others, scheduled to replace them, failed to report. Union leaders said none of the workers (Continued on Page Nine)

Ashville Persons Taken To Hospital; Driver Fails To See Freight Train

Two Ashville residents were injured Thursday about 9:30 a. m. when their automobile went onto the Norfolk and Western tracks at the West High Street grade crossing into the path of an N. and W. shifter that was moving freight cars from Dorney to the railroad freight house.

The caboose of the train struck the Ford coupe of Miss Margaret Clift, 78, of Ashville, who was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of numerous lacerations. Riding with her was Samuel Ryan, 65, whom she had picked up on her way to Circleville to shop. Mr. Ryan also lives at Ashville. His injuries are more severe, his face being deeply cut. He may also have a pelvic fracture, hospital attaches said. Both are under care of Dr. Ned Griner.

The fact that the train was traveling slowly is believed to have prevented more serious injury for both persons in the car. Railroad men reported that drivers of two trucks who were parked at the crossing tried to attract the attention of Miss Clift, but she said she was looking north and did not see the car coming from the south.

The car was carried about 50 feet up the track.

Three sets of signals were operating at the crossing at the time of the mishap, railroad men said.

The Rinehart ambulance took both the injured to the hospital.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP NORTH OF CITY

An auto accident on Route 23, thirteen miles north of Circleville, sent one woman to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, Wednesday night about 8:30 with a broken shoulder and head and leg injuries.

The victim was Miss Anna L. Hayes, 67, 2392 South Sixth Street, Columbus. She was taken to Columbus by the E. F. Schlegel ambulance of Ashville.

Miss Hayes was riding with Henry Sawyers of the same address when their automobile was struck from the rear by one driven by William Short, 29, Milnar Hotel, Toledo, pushing Sawyers' car into a small building on the east side of the highway.

Sawyers told Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer that he had signaled to make a left turn off Route 23 near a roadside stand where he intended to make a purchase when the Short car struck him.

Short and his wife, Nancy, were on a vacation trip to Virginia when the accident happened.

MOTHER GIVES LIFE TO SAVE THOSE OF YOUTHS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—A 38-year-old Cleveland Heights mother of two young boys was dead today after her heroism prevented her sons from drowning.

When a Lake Erie undertow caught them 10 feet off shore at Geneva, Mrs. Evelyn Greenberg denied herself the safety of a life belt so it could be used to save her sons, Allen, 9, and Sheldon, 5.

Max Block, a nearby park employee, tossed the life belt to Mrs. Greenberg, who immediately pushed it to the boys. The children were pulled to safety. Block then dove in and brought Mrs. Greenberg ashore where a physician was unable to revive her.

RUSSIANS DENY ARMY CRUSHED BY NAZI FORCE

Severe Fighting Goes On; Reich Certain Smolensk In German Hands

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Announcing vast new encirclement movements along the entire Russian front, German military headquarters issued a new official communique today stating flatly that Smolensk has been in German hands since July 16.

The vital city on the road to Moscow was taken by a motorized infantry division at bayonet point on that day and defended against continual enemy counter-attacks, it was said.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Severe fighting on the Estonian battle front and on the sectors protecting Moscow and Kiev was announced by the Russian high command today.

A new Soviet war communique said: "During the night our troops continued stubborn fighting in the directions of Smolensk, Byelaya-Serkov and on the Estonian sector. "In other directions and sectors there were no major operations. "Our air force continued to strike blows at mechanized units and artillery and airdromes." In an earlier communique the (Continued on Page Nine)

HIGH ARMY AND NAVY MEN GONE FROM CAPITAL

By International News Service

Absence from Washington of four of the highest ranking military and naval men in the United States today gave new impetus to the rumors that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill were meeting or were about to meet in a conference at sea.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Lieut.-Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the air forces, were not at their desks in the capital. Secretaries reported they did not know where the generals were. Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, also were absent.

Although there has been no confirmation from any quarter, either in London or Washington, that the heads of the two governments were meeting, the absence from the capital of America's high-ranking military men led to the belief that only a major conference could have called all the military away from their posts at the same time.

A message from the presidential cruise ship, the U.S.S. Potomac, yesterday failed to give any clues. It briefly described the weather off the New England coast. Another bulletin from the presidential vessel was expected later today.

Singapore Authorities Say All Preparations Made For Emergency

Tokyo Hints Empire To Grab Thailand Bases At Earliest Chance

SINGAPORE, Aug. 7.—Great Britain's Far Eastern high command today announced completion of all preparations for an emergency.

An official communique issued by the Singapore Ministry of Information said: "In Burma and South China, all preparations are ready to smash any attempt by the Japanese to cut the Burma Road or move westward."

Inclusion of South China as well as Burma in the British defense preparations was in line with previous announcements from London and Chungking that British and Chinese forces would operate in collaboration against any Japanese aggression aimed at cutting the Burma Road.

It is by way of the sea, Rangoon and the Burma Road that British and American war supplies are still reaching Chungking, deep in the fastnesses of China.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Chungking recently said that Chinese naval bases would be placed at disposition of the British fleet in event of extended hostilities.

Lieutenant General Percival, commander of British forces at this strategic Far Eastern stronghold, declared today that he favors close cooperation between Britain and the United States regarding Far Eastern policy.

U. S. Goods Satisfactory

He said war equipment arriving in Malaya from the United States is "most satisfactory" and that his troops are fit and "ready for anything."

(Editor's Note: The Japanese (Domei) news agency charged yesterday that the "British apparently are preparing to seize key points in Thailand if necessary."

(Domei said it based this charge on reports "claiming concentrations of Chinese troops on the Burma border, as well as disposition of British and Australian troops on the Burma-Thailand frontier, the landing of reinforcements at Singapore and other steps directed against Thailand as the immediate objective.")

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Aug. 7.—Thousands of new Japanese troops disembarked from transports anchored in Saigon Harbor today and streamed westward toward the border of Thailand in truck convoys.

BRITISH PLANES POUR BOMBS ON CALAIS DISTRICT

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Swarms of British bombers, flying at tremendous altitudes, rocked the coast of France again today after night squadrons had blasted the western Reich and enemy airdromes in France in fierce raids.

The latest assault apparently was aimed at Calais, Dunkerque and Ostend.

During the night, the RAF dispatched American-built night fighters on a mission of destruction over German airdromes in northern France. Bombs were dropped on runways and several hangars were set afire. The attack continued until daylight, and at dawn, fires were observed still blazing around Calais.

Renewing the giant aerial offensive, other squadrons carried out a series of slashing attacks on centers in western and southwestern Germany.

Pickaway County Shows Fine Upward Trend In Business, Treasurer Discloses

FIGURES ARE COMPARED

Week Of July 26 Puts Area Above Many Ohio Regions With Receipt Total

Continued gains in Circleville trading area business are revealed in another prepaid sales tax report submitted Thursday by Don Ebright, state treasurer.

A week ago Pickaway County reports were high compared with figures from other counties of comparative size. This week the trend is even more marked with receipts being $1,969.06, compared with $1,285.78 for the same week in 1940, that ending July 26.

Tax receipts for the year have passed the $50,000 mark, the actual report as of July 26, being $50,587.28, about $4,500 more than a year ago the same week when the total was $46,074.71.

The state's total collection from sales tax sources to date is $33,775,782.95, compared with $26,758,004.74 a year ago.

The $1,969.06 collected for the week ending July 26 passes receipts in Madison, Meigs, Mercer, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Paulding, Perry, Pike, Putnam, Union, Vinton, Adams, Gauga, Harrison, Clinton, Gallia, Geauga, Harrison, Henry, Hocking, Holmes, and Jackson.

The $50,587.28 total keeps Pickaway ahead of Adams, Brown, Gallia, Geauga, Harrison, Hocking, Holmes, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Ottawa, Paulding, Perry, Pike, Putnam and Vinton for the year.

Figures from surrounding counties include:

YOUNGSTOWN, O. PREPARES FOR LEGION CONFAB

State Convention Planned
For August 16-19 In
Eastern City

RESERVATIONS ARE MADE

Big Parade To Be Monday,
August 18; 19,200 In
Line Last Year

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 7—The Ohio American Legion and this city, both greatly changed since their first meeting 21 years ago, will get together again August 16-19, when World War veterans and affiliated groups, representing a total membership of more than 75,000 converge here for the Legion's twenty-third annual state convention.

Youngstowners are looking forward to the event with something akin to trepidation since it will be their biggest convention in history. They are being warned that, for a brief time, the population of their city will be increased by 15 percent, and that for two days and nights their hotel and spare rooms in hundreds of private homes will be occupied by 3,000 to 5,000 guests.

Convention headquarters early this week already had made reservations for approximately 1,650 persons for two nights, but Chairman Paul L. Booth cheerfully announced that all room requests are being filled in the city and its far-flung suburbs.

The list of Legion delegates and officials alone totals almost 1,000, and other hundreds will be present to represent the Auxiliary units, the ubiquitous Forty and Eight and the latter's better halves—the Eight and Forty.

High point of the convention, as usual, will be the annual parade, which is scheduled for 5 p. m. Monday, August 18. Last year at Toledo there were 19,200 in line. Since Youngstown is located in the most populous section of Ohio, within easy commuting distance of other large cities, the total in the parade here is expected to exceed 20,000, with 5,000 or more other visitors on the sidelines.

In terms which Youngstowners more readily recognize, this means that, for a day, their city will have as guests more people than are employed in those two giants of local industry—Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and the Republic Steel Corp.

Some of the Legionnaires, and thousands of elder citizens, will view these proceedings with a touch of nostalgia as they look back to the convention here in 1920.

They will recall that at that time only 700 veterans without uniforms, their own bands and the other now-traditional trappings of a Legion convention, gathered here. Grateful citizens, still basking in the prosperity of World War I, enjoyed entertaining them, enjoyed their youthful spirits and horseplay, their rambunctious parading and free spending.

City Booming
Today, those elder citizens, having passed through the tragic doldrums of the early '30's, and into an era of prosperity linked with National Defense, will present a revitalized boom city for the inspection of the veterans. Bessemer converters, operating on a 24-hour schedule, fill the night air with flame and smoke, and Steel City, with employment and payrolls both exceeding the lush days of 1929, is prepared to put its best face forward for the returning Legionnaires.

In the intervening 21 years, new buildings have sprung up around the public square, most of the major streets have been improved and widened, and a $5,000,000 airport has just been put into service. Metropolitan Youngstown, which now includes the whole of Mahoning County, has increased in population about 90,000 to 372,428 in 20 years. A whole new generation is ready to welcome the veterans.

There are more than 450 kinds of woodpeckers in the world.

Nazis Try New Drives in Russia

ARROWS on the above map indicate new drives launched by the German armies in a desperate effort to crack the Russian defense lines on the eastern front. While Moscow admitted that a new German salient had been formed in the direction of Kholm between Leningrad and Smolensk, Berlin claimed advances along the Moscow highway east of Smolensk and successful attacks 50 miles south of Kiev.

WATER DAMAGE HITS ESMERALDA

Over $600 Loss Estimated
Result of Fire Scare
At Canning Plant

Water damage estimated at between $600 and $700 resulted Tuesday about 4 p. m. when a glue pot ignited paper cartons at the Esmeralda Canning Company, the fire opening the company's sprinkler system.

James I. Smith, manager of the company, said the fire started in the warehouse when a burning glue pot upset near a stack of canned goods. Damage from fire was slight, he said.

The flames were under control when the city fire truck arrived.

SPENDING OF OFFICIAL IN COLUMBUS STUDIED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7—The campaign spending of a city official and a real estate transaction involving another were said to be under the scrutiny today of the Franklin County Grand jury, which is investigating gambling conditions in and around Columbus.

Frank Marsh, clerk of the county board of elections, was hurriedly summoned to the jury room yesterday at the hour when the jurors usually recess for the day. He carried a small package which he left in the room. Both he and prosecutor Frank J. Bartlett refused to divulge its contents.

The reason for Marsh's appearance, as well as that of several other witnesses, was a closely-guarded mystery. Bartlett refused to answer all questions, although intimating that the jury had no specific witnesses planned for questioning today, and that the jury was proceeding on a "day-to-day" basis.

The testimony of City Attorney John M. Lewis was said to concern the alleged real estate deal. An attorney, a property owner, and a real estate broker also were summoned before the jury, but they were not located and hence did not appear.

COUNCIL MOVES TO WIN BACKING FOR TAX LEVY

Active Campaign Set Up To Call Attention To City's Needs

DEPARTMENTS IN NEED

Eight-Hour Statute For Police Leaves Force Understaffed

Declaring that drastic curtailment of the city's current operating expenses would have to be made if the 1½ mill levy fails to pass at the Primary election next Tuesday, City Council Wednesday night inaugurated a campaign which it hopes will win support of the voters.

Within the next day or two, 4,000 handbills asking city voters to cast their ballots for the levy will be printed and distributed in every home in the city. Councilmen, police and firemen have agreed to cooperate in selling the public on the necessity of the levy. With the city's expenses reported cut to the minimum at the present time, only way in which additional reductions in expenses can be made is through cutting even more severely the city's police and fire protection. Street lights and the city water supply may even have to be shut off, some of the councilmen maintained.

Police in Need

One of the principal objectives of the levy is to secure revenue for the operation of the police department. To conform with the new state 8-hour day law, city police have been placed under a new schedule which affords the residential sections of the city virtually no police protection either day or night.

Emmitt Crist, attorney for the police department, told councilmen at their meeting Wednesday night that the schedule under which the police force was operating was the most efficient that could be worked out with the present force, but pointed out that the department still was considerably understaffed.

Councilmen went on record Wednesday night as favoring the 8-hour day law and assured police authorities that if the levy passed and the funds could be secured, would be added to provide the city with adequate police protection under the new law.

Cost $3 Yearly

The 1½ mill levy will cost the average tax payer about $3 a year, councilmen estimate. The levy requires a 65 percent vote for passage.

HAYS MAY BE SUMMONED TO DISCUSS PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7—Movie Czar Will Hays may be called before a senate committee to testify on a proposed resolution calling for investigation of the motion picture industry to determine whether it is issuing war propaganda, it was revealed today.

Sen. Clark (D) Ida., chairman of a Senate Interstate Commerce subcommittee, said the group also might call leading picture producers before acting on the resolution. Dates for hearings on the proposal have not yet been set, he added.

Sen. Clark (D) Mo., introduced the resolution calling for the senate investigation of the motion picture industry. He charged that recent productions have contained propaganda designed to edge the United States into the war.

CADY, HERRMANN SUBMIT CITY, HOSPITAL REPORTS

A July report submitted to City Council Wednesday night by Mayor W. B. Cady, showed fines for the month to total $68.45; licenses, $2; fees, $8.70 and bonds, $280 for a total of $359.15.

Report of Berger Hospital for July showed receipts to total $1,110.70. The report was submitted to Council by Safety Director Karl Herrmann.

ETHEL MERMAN ADMITS MARRIAGE A MISTAKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—Ethel Merman, Broadway musical comedy star, who was sued for divorce in Hollywood yesterday by William J. Smith, actor's agent, today said that "my husband and I agreed some time ago that our marriage was a mistake."

"Being in a show, I could not myself take the necessary action," she declared. "There is absolutely no rancor on my part. That is all I can say."

The couple married last November and separated December 5.

LABOR OFFICIAL HOPING FOR TIMKEN STRIKE END

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7—Although two more women were injured in another clash between pickets and non-striking workers, Federal Labor Conciliator John L. Conner said that he believed a settlement might be reached late today in the walkout at the Columbus plant of T. Timken Roller Bearing Co., holder of millions of dollars in defense contracts.

Marjorie Dixon, 24, and an unidentified woman, were injured, and two other women knocked down in the latest scuffle at the plant gates. Miss Dixon required treatment at White Cross Hospital.

Conner said that representa-

Police Wednesday were investigating a break-in at the Crites service station on North Court Street. The break-in is believed to have happened early Thursday.

SHORT ILLNESS FATAL TO FAMOUS INDIAN POET, 80

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 7—Rabindranath Tagore, famous Indian poet, died today after a brief illness at the age of 80.

Revered for the lyrical simplicity of his poetry, drama and essays, Tagore was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1913. He turned the prize money over to a school near Calcutta.

At the age of 79 he turned to the screen as an art medium and wrote an eight reel version of one of his plays, then acted in the motion picture.

CINCINNATI FIRM BUYS CITY GARAGE BOND ISSUE

A resolution accepting the bid of the J. A. White and Company of Cincinnati on the $2,000 bond issue for the purchase of the county garage building from county commissioners was passed by councilmen Wednesday night.

Bid of the Cincinnati company was 2¼ percent interest on the bonds. The county garage building was purchased by the city for the service department.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

SELECTEES WEREN'T IMPRESSED

WASHINGTON — Most attentive listeners in the crowded Senate galleries during the debate on retaining selectees were little groups of sunburned, khaki-clad young men from the draft army.

On leave from nearby camps, they took time out to visit the August chamber and listen to the discussion that was deciding their future.

To find out what they, themselves, think about being kept in the army more than one year, the Merry-Go-Rounders interviewed one hundred of them as they left the Senate galleries.

All of those interviewed were from eastern states and represented practically every branch of the army. They were asked: "What do you think about the bill you have just heard debated?" Here are the results:

Almost without exception they said they wanted to return to civilian life at the end of one year's service.

About 30 percent were very emphatic that they should be "let out"; repeating Senator Wheeler's phrase that the Government was "breaking faith."

The remaining 70 percent, while desirous of returning home, were not insistent. About one-third of this group volunteered that they were willing to abide by the action of Congress.

SOLDIERS' VOTES

MEN in the nation's defense forces who want to vote in November should begin at once to make whatever arrangements their respective state laws require for absentee voting. There is registration to be taken care of for those who have never registered. There are absentee ballots to be obtained from local election boards, and so on.

It would be a delicate attention on the part of admiring and loving relatives at home to find out exactly what routine is necessary and to send the information to their absent menfolk now. There is an inevitable amount of red tape in such matters. The sooner clear instructions are in hand, the quicker it can be unwound.

JUNKER CARS

FOR years Japan has been buying scrap iron from the United States. Out of the old cars in our junk heaps has been built much of the Japanese armament which has been used against the Chinese and that which may soon be used against ourselves. Now at last we are learning to use our own junk. The government has asked Ohio yards for the scrap from every car of 1932 or older to be melted into cannon and tanks. From 20 old jalopies a new tank can be constructed. Copper, brass, rubber and aluminum come from the old cars, also.

The OPM is making a test campaign in Ohio. Later there will be a national movement to increase the number of cars junked annually from 2,500,000 to 3,500,000.

It ought to help the roads and the domestic life-saving campaigns, too, to get another million of the old buggies out of the way every year.

ROOF-TOP FARMS

DOOR old New York! It has to grow its gardens on its roofs or its window sills or do without! There's Rockefeller Center, with a terrace farm eleven stories up. There were yellow onions now drying for use next winter. There are still growing cabbages and tomatoes, beets, carrots, parsnips, spinach and mint, Swiss chard, and lettuce. Of course the whole farm occupies but 400 square feet — which is about 10' by 40'. Perhaps it should rather be called a truck garden—there seems to be no mention of stock or feed. There is an orchard, however, of pear and apple trees, growing against a wall which separates the vegetables from a flower garden.

It's interesting to know that a vegetable garden of this size will support a family of four during the season, with something to put by for winter. It is

DON'T UNDERSTAND DANGER

From the brief chats with these boys, two significant attitudes stood out:

1. Soldiering has no appeal. The Army definitely has not sold itself to them as a way of life. With one possible exception, no selectee indicated that he would re-enlist voluntarily if discharged.

They had no complaints about their treatment. Food was good, they were not overworked, some were in better physical condition than ever before. But soldiering just wasn't popular.

Not one of these youngsters seemed aware of what was happening in the world; that their country might be in danger; that they should make some sacrifice for their country.

Said a stokey Signal Corps man: "If we see that things are urgent, we're willing to stay, but who knows? The President says they are urgent. Wheeler and Lindbergh say they aren't. Until they can decide, they ought to let us out."

"THESE BUYS OUTSIDE"

Said an Air Corps corporal: "These guys outside who are making good dough and striking for more while they keep us in the army—that's the thing that bothers me."

"There are plenty of men who like the army," said a cavalryman. "Why not let them volunteer? And besides, what are they going to do with all the new men coming in? They won't have enough room for them."

Said a pugnacious Brooklynite: "They made a deal with us, and they ought to (Continued on Page Ten) doubtless a good idea to show the ignorant metropolitan how a garden grows. But most Americans are glad they can have their own back yards for their asters, cosmos, beets and spinach.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a fine morning that was soon ruined to considerable extent by bannerline news in the morning prints on the Far Eastern situation. The Orient is our door into the European war. Don't see any other possibility. The Japs have been begging for a spanking for many years and soon will get it. Found myself humming "Any Bonds Today?" as I read. Quite a song, that, and quite an American investment, those bonds.

Downtown did find little excitement. Loring Hoffman waved and yelled to me as he passed enroute to Lake Brevort for a fishing vacation. Said he had just heard that the big ones were hitting. Waved to Bob Colville, the treasurer, and chatted with W. F. Heffner, who told of a nine acre field of winter oats that produced 90 bushels to the acre. Heaviest oat's production I have heard about so far.

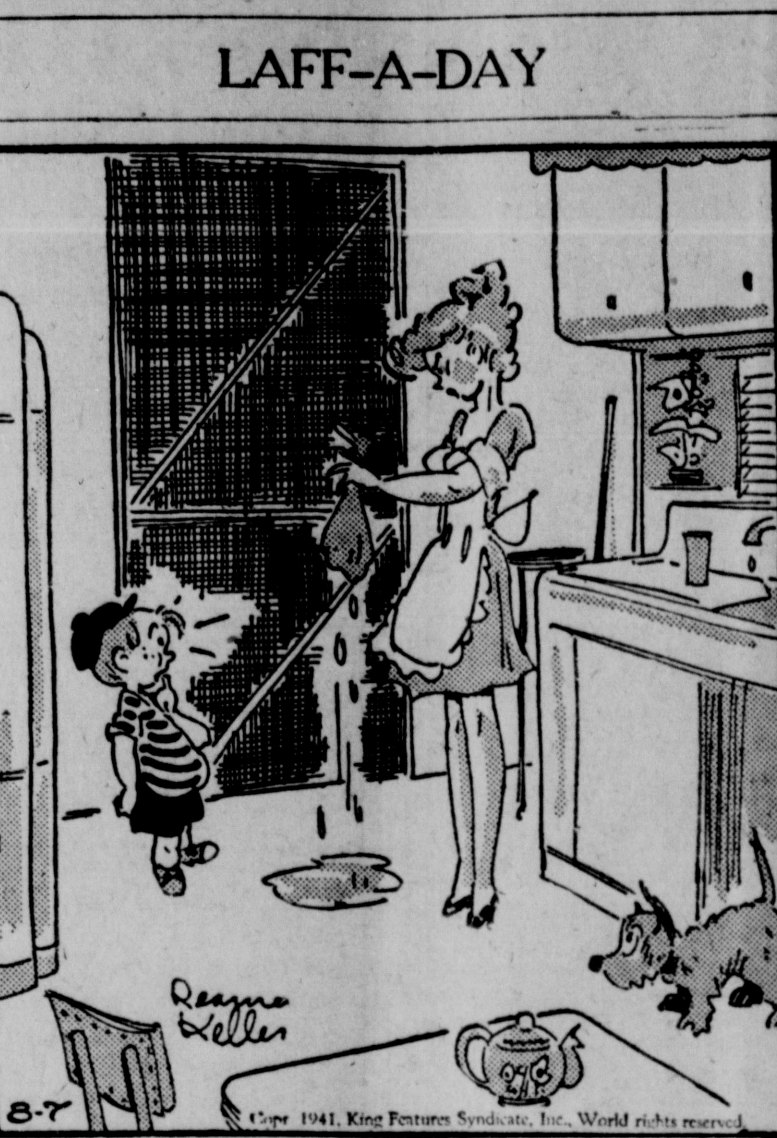

City primaries practically here and no one discussing the voting. Unless something happens to stir interest, the balloting may be the lightest of a long, long time. Passed the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. and tried to visualize the grand new front that is to go in one of these days. A fine improvement.

Met Sam Groom, eighteen times a grandfather, all elated over the latest arrival. One never gets over it, I guess. Visited the new A & P supermarket for a pre-view and was astonished by the great stock. A far, far cry from the old cracker barrel type of store.

Dan McClain, who every now and then reports in on an unusual tree, now has located an English walnut in the yard of William Myers, the Stoutsville banker. Bearing nuts, too. Received a post card from Clay Chaffin and Irv Lelst, who are on vacation at a lake near Greenville, Mich. "Having a good time. Wish we could afford it," they penned.

Every now and then a new crop of rumors regarding establishment of an army training camp in the county. That in it-

DIET AND HEALTH

Sports and Work Activities Use Calories

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● We can't all go round with different kinds of meters on us to measure our health activities although a great many health authorities think we should. The Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

great fundamental health measures are food and exercise and sleep and sunlight and air and philosophy.

Science, it is quite true, has learned to measure these mathematically (all but philosophy). We measure food and exercise by the heat-energy-unit, the calorie. Sunlight and air and sleep can be measured in various chemical, physical and psychological ways. But we don't need to have temperature gauges, and respiration calorimeters, and illumination meters around us all the time. Nature has provided us with a way for telling whether we have had enough to eat or enough sleep or whether the air is bad, or whether we have enough light to see by. We don't always follow those dictates wisely (we may eat and exercise too much or sleep too little), but they are there just the same.

Calories and Sports

It being the glorious summer time and the favored time for exercise, it is rather interesting to know how many calories you use up in each sport.

A calorie is a certain amount of heat energy. A physically active woman uses about 2,400 calories a day; a physically inactive woman about 2,000. At an average meal you get about 800 calories. About

1,200 of your daily calorie expenditure goes to maintain your body heat. About 500 for ordinary activity, including exercise.

Different sports have different expenditures. It is astonishing that muscle tension takes up so many calories. Thus skiing going downhill, which is just keeping your muscles tense, takes 27 calories per pound per hour, as compared with horse-back riding, which takes 10 to 19. According to Dr. William Engel, in his book Sensible Dieting (A. A. Knopf, publisher), we use less energy when we let ourselves go—we can run 158 yards on 15 per cent less calories than we can walk it—I presume momentum comes into that.

Expenditure of Calories

Swimming 50 yards uses about 5 to 7 calories, depending on body weight.

Dancing gives some weird figures — Rumba, 9 calories per hour. Fox Trot, about the same as the Big Apple. While the Polka is away up to 17 calories per hour. You will burn up this many calories per pound per hour, in your daily activity if you are a:

Seamstress, 6 calories; typist, 25; housemaid, 60; laundress, 160; tailor, 50; metal worker, 150; carpenter, 165; stonemason, 300; sawing wood, 380.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Castle of Contentment

By LORENA CARLETON
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS

YLENA VARANOFF, young and pretty wife of THEODORE VINCENT, wealthy easterner, arrives in La Madera. She sends ROSE, housekeeper for VERNON STONE, the Vincent family attorney, back east to keep her informed about CARLYLE, Ylena's little daughter, who is in the custody of Vincent's mother. Ylena meets two young men in La Madera. One TATE CROMWELL, is arrogant, self-confident of his way with women. The other, SCOTT HAMILTON, is a pleasant young dude rancher.

YESTERDAY: Ylena breaks her engagement with Tate and then goes on home—where she discovers Scott Hamilton waiting.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

PERPETUAL guardian, Ylena thought thankfully, and burst through the door. With a startled leap Scott landed on his feet, at the same time knocking to the floor his magazine and a wooden cooking spoon.

"Holy cow, Ylena, must you toss yourself into the room like a bomb and scare me out of my wits?" He grinned sheepishly and accepted her out-thrust hands, then kissed her cheek and took her fur coat. "Welcome home. And it's about time," he said with barbed sarcasm.

"It seems I've never been gone," Ylena murmured, looking about her with home-coming pleasure.

"To you, possibly, but not to me. And that reminds me," He slung away from her side. "I'm plenty mad at you. What the devil do you mean skipping town like an absconding banker and alarming your friends?"

Ylena took off her hat and the milk-banded jacket and sat down at the little enameled kitchen table. "I was trying to spare my friends a lot of worry," She eyed him closely. "What are you doing down here, anyway? Why aren't you up at the Northern Ranch?"

"That's a fine question," Scott tapped the ashes out of his pipe into an Indian ashtray of decorated clay. "How could I stay up there with Aunt Daisy telephoning every quarter-hour about you. For self-protection I came down. We got sticks and started beating the brush. When you wouldn't crawl out, Aunt Daisy wanted to drain the irrigation canals, but by then I just thought to the devil with it, if you didn't have any more consideration for your friends than that."

"It was consideration for them that made me slip away."

"Ylena, apparently you don't know what friends are."

She smiled. "Yes, I do. They come in and water my beautiful geraniums and sweet potato plants and keep the clock wound and cook good-smelling food—and what's in the kettle, Scott?"

"A special concoction of mine. Scott-free soup."

Ylena winced at the pun. "I'll have a quantity, I missed dinner." Scott's eyes traveled meaningfully over her. "All bedded in a dinner gown and no dinner? Seems to me that's a strange garb to wear on the train."

"I didn't come on the train. I motored out. Vernon insisted I take back my car."

"Even so, it scarcely is the latest thing for motoring."

The girl replied stiffly, "You know perfectly well I didn't travel in this. So don't stand there like a cross-examining lawyer. I'll tell you everything while we eat." She stretched to a small built-in buffet and began setting the table.

Scott changed the subject. "Ylena, would you sell this place?"

"Why, yes, I told you—"

And then she remembered it was not Scott, but Tate, she had told she wanted to sell. "Of course I would—why?"

Scott was busy toasting garlic-rubbed French bread and pouring boiling water into a drip coffee pot. "Because I think I can sell it for you at a price that would make your eyes pop out of your head like green marbles. But I refuse to tell you anything more about it until I'm certain."

Over the supper table Ylena related everything to the amazed Scott Hamilton—or perhaps not quite everything. She practically was skipping Tate, she realized. But she recounted her former husband's malicious visit, then her sudden New York trip, the capture of Clarkson, Rose's rescue, her glimpse of Carlyle, the vicious threats of old lady Vincent and finally her cross-country return to La Madera.

At last, over canned peaches—"cowboy dessert"—and cigarettes, Scott told her, "That still doesn't explain your being dressed in this little $300 rag."

With reluctance she proceeded then to tell him about Tate, about their mutual feeling for each other, about the diamond and her enthusiasm to reach La Madera and surprise him. And then she told him about the girl.

Hamilton looked at Ylena's slender hand. "Where is the ring now?"

"I tried to give it to Francie, but Tate grabbed it."

Scott Hamilton roared with laughter. "I see now I won't have to worry much about Casanova Cromwell as a rival. But just remember, Ylena, what I told you that night at the Andalusia. I'm courting you as seriously as my puppy courted my mother and I won't sit idly by and let someone snatch you." He leaned back in the straight-backed kitchen chair and said placidly, "So go on having fun for a while, because I think matters will work out for themselves—but in case they don't," he assured, "I'm here to snatch you back. He's bad for you, Ylena."

Her answer astonished him. "I know it. But you don't stop a child from gorging on chocolate bars by warning, 'It's bad for you.' So that's how it is."

Soberly he said, "Then perhaps I'll have to find some other way to stop you after all. Oh, Ylena, I can't understand how you can be so smart in some ways and so stupid in others. You're such a fool, my dear, and such a child."

For the second time that evening she was called a child. Perhaps Scott had a right to call her that. And a fool, too. Perhaps both men had a right. Perhaps that was what she was!

She said sharply, "I'm sure we can dispense with all your worries, Scott. I hardly look for Tate to bother with me again."

"Bother with you? You make me sick, Ylena. Why, he'll come slithering around," he said in a jeering, super-dramatic voice, "like a snake after a sweet little dove. But he won't get by with it. If I go at this romance a bit differently from Casanova Cromwell, it probably means I haven't had as much experience. Nevertheless, I'm going to be the winner, so meanwhile, Ylena, try to get through your head how much I love you."

"Don't be ridiculous, Scott," she replied in a matter of fact voice.

"You're my friend. You help me. You fuss at me. But love—not with you, Scott!" Unfortunately, she smiled.

Immediately Scott Hamilton got up and slung his napkin upon the table. "So it's ridiculous! And you laugh. O. K. Stick to Tate and learn what a really ridiculous love is." The back door slammed behind him.

Spellbound, Ylena sat for a second without moving. Then she wrenched open the door and sped after Scott. She called to him, but he paid no attention and continued to walk swiftly down the lane. Hampered by the long skirt, she nevertheless kept running. This was the first time he had been really angry with her, and she didn't like it. Hamilton's retreating figure was getting far ahead of her. She called to him again, but he was out of her lane now, trotting swiftly up the highway toward his Aunt Daisy's ranch. Humorously it flashed through Ylena's mind that she had spent a large part of her first evening at home, running. She loved Tate, yet ran from him. She didn't love Scott, yet ran after him. She called out again.

"Scott, if you don't wait for me, I'll follow you clear home and tell Aunt Daisy how you've treated me."

He stopped then, walked across the ditch and leaned against her roadside fence until the girl caught up with him. She scrambled across the weed-lined ditch and sagged against the whitewashed railing, trying to get her breath.

"The way I've treated you?" he queried with sarcasm. "Did it ever occur to you that Aunt Daisy might not like the way you're treating her one and only nephew?"

Storm clouds shifted and the moon suddenly shone through brightly. Ylena looked up into her companion's face, a set face with cold, unfriendly eyes. A totally unfamiliar Scott. She put both her hands about his upper arm and bowed her head against them.

"Don't be angry," Her shoulders were shaking.

"You'd better go home, Ylena. It's frosty out here. You're shivering."

"I'm not cold," she said again in a muffled pleading. "Please don't be angry with me."

He realized then that she was sobbing. "I'm not, Ylena. Stop crying."

Her head was still downcast. "Scott, you're right. I am an awful fool and I know I'm wrong. But I just can't help it. If you just knew how I feel when he kisses me—"

"I know exactly how you feel," Instantly Scott whirled her into his arms and held her so tightly she scarcely could breathe. No longer sternly contemptuous, his mouth had changed and was soft, warm and devouring as he kissed her. Just one demanding, apparently endless kiss. Eventually he released her with such force that she lost balance and was thrown against the fence.

"Of course I know how you feel when Tate kisses you. Exactly as I feel when I kiss you. But don't worry, Ylena. You're safe. I'll never kiss you again until you ask me—and you will ask me." He left her then and swiftly headed toward his aunt's ranch.

The moonlight faded into abrupt darkness and Ylena no longer could see him. She couldn't even hear his footsteps on the pavement. She was completely alone, in a hushed, deserted darkness. But she suddenly noticed that she had stopped crying.

160 Grangers Present At Commercial Point Event

'Neighbor Night' Meeting Staged At School

One hundred and sixty grangers enjoyed the Neighbor Night meeting of Scioto Grange Wednesday in the Commercial Point school auditorium.

The visiting granges presented an unusually interesting program. Washington ladies' degree team exemplified the third degree work in an efficient and dignified manner; Star ladies' degree team performed an intricate drill forming the name of their grange in addition to many lovely figures; Hamilton Grange, Franklin County, presented a short program under the direction of Mrs. Besse Meeker, worthy lecturer.

Baskets of garden flowers were used on the stage and each station had a small bouquet of colorful blossoms.

The evening business session was in charge of Dwight Bethards, worthy master. At this time Mrs. Merritt Dountz reported that Scioto Grange had won first prize for the float entered in the recent homecoming parade at Commercial Point. The prize was $27.

Ben Grace, chairman of the picnic committee, reported that the picnic would be Thursday, August 14, at Griggs and O'Shaughnessy Dams, near Columbus.

Mrs. Grace, lecturer of Scioto Grange, mentioned that the grange had been invited and had accepted an invitation to present three musical numbers at the Fayette County Pomona meeting Wednesday, August 13. This will be an evening session.

T. M. Glick, county deputy, spoke briefly on grange matters and announced the next traveling program for Friday, August 15, at Washington Grange. He also announced the quarterly meeting of the Pickaway County Pomona Grange for Saturday, August 16, when the all day session will be at Commercial Point School with Scioto Grange as host.

A dessert lunch was served during the social hour by Mrs. Agnes Hill, Mrs. Reba Hinton and Miss Alma Hudson, members of the lunch committee.

Emmett's Chapel Aid

Officers for the coming year were elected Wednesday at a largely attended meeting of Emmett's Chapel Aid Society at the home of Mrs. John Riggins, near Kingston. Mrs. Austin Wilson will head the organization as president. Her assisting officers include Mrs. John Miller, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Wilkins, treasurer, and Mrs. Clarence Maxon, secretary.

Large vases of gladioli in a riot of colors and many other summer flowers made the Riggins home a pleasant setting for the affair.

Mrs. Harry Wright, president, conducted the business session and led the devotion. Mrs. B. W. Young, chairman, Mrs. Cora Rader Hood and Mrs. Wilson made up the nominating committee.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Riggins assisted by her daughters, Mrs. L. A. Hole and Mrs. Charles Bennett of Columbus; Mrs. Charles Baldoser of Saltcreek Township and Mrs. Fairy Alkire of the home.

The Rev. Fred Mark of Washington C. H., Mrs. Elmer Strous, Mrs. George Jury of the Laurelville community, Mrs. Alva Dyer, Salem, Mrs. Donald Hildebrand, Pickaway Township, Miss Viola Alkire, Columbus and Mrs. Robert Vandervort, Circleville were guests at the meeting.

The September meeting will be

The class of 1936 of Williamsport High School held its annual reunion at Gold Cliff Park recently with 15 of its 18 members present. A bountiful basket dinner was enjoyed at noon.

Members of the class at the reunion were the Misses Maribel Ater, Margie Carmean, Mary Clark, Daisy Jones, Mary Hastings, Mrs. Roger Lozier (Virginia Betts), Mrs. Harmon Carter (Helen Hill), Eugene Anderson, Conway Stonerock, Dan Noble, Egbert Hanson, Kervyn Morrison, Harmon Carter, Harold Gibson and George Smith. A card was signed by each person present to be sent to Everett Tomlinson, the only member of the class who is in military training.

Benevolent Association

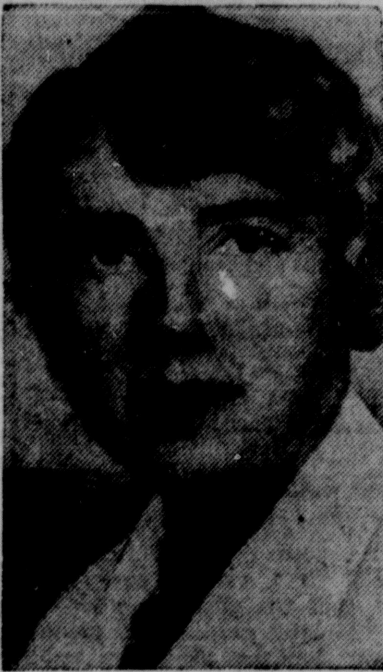

Miss Clara Southward, case worker, submitted her report for July to the officers of the Circleville Benevolent Association telling of a variety of perplexing problems and difficulties helped by the cash replies to the association letters recently sent out. She mentioned as helpful the sales tax stamps received from several friends of the organization.

Specifically she told of donations of clothing and household supplies from 16 individuals and prepared food from two organizations.

The records of the association show the names of 95 families that were helped in some way during the month, according to Miss Southward. Food, donated and purchased, was furnished 14 families and 23 were on the daily milk list. Used clothing and other supplies were given to 78 families.

Today's Garden-Graph

Crab grass is an annual and at this time of the year the important thing is to keep it from going to seed, or at least to gather its seed in an effort to prevent or limit next year's crop.

ALTHOUGH IT HAS A SHALLOW ROOT SYSTEM CRAB GRASS GROWS TALL WHEN NOT CUT

Crab grass control calls for campaign

As shown in the above Garden-Graph, although crab grass is shallow-rooted it, will grow several feet high before it goes to seed; but where it is cut by the lawnmower it spreads out horizontally and then goes to seed. It is important, for this reason, to use the grasscatcher on the mower. Mow in both directions. Rake the creeping stalks erect and then mow again to catch them. In this way one can collect nearly all the seed as well as pieces of joints or nodes from the stalks which, if left on the ground, will take root and produce new plants.

The only other way of controlling crab grass in a lawn is by the use of chemicals which are toxic to the plants.

Late August and September are two of the best months for transplanting evergreens. To insure success, the ground should be thoroughly prepared before planting begins. It should be dug deep and enriched.

Rose gardens which are not mulched should be kept lightly cultivated. This, with persistent spraying and watering, will bring the plants back into full bloom as the weather gets cooler.

Durocher Sees Close NL Race

Not More Than Two And Half Games To Separate Top Teams; Allen Praised

By Jack Mahon

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—"I think the National League race will be decided by not more than 2½ games and that with Johnny Allen helping our pitchers, Brooklyn has the stuff to win the pennant." That's the way Manager Leo the Lip Durocher, diamond genius of the Gowanus, summed up a red-hot pennant race today.

Durocher is sold on Allen, perennial play-boy, recently cast off by the lowly St. Louis Browns and bought by the Dodgers for only $7,500 last week. Leo thinks John is a very fine pitcher when he wants to be; and John, according to the Lip wants to be—very much—right now.

"Allen came to us in poor physical shape, I admit," said Lippy, "but he's getting into form now and is a real pitcher when right. I didn't press him when he reported but he pitched six well innings before tiring against the Cubs last week. I saw him wobbling and asked what was wrong."

"My arm is swell," he told me, "but my body is tired all over. I just can't make it."

Durocher explained he's had Allen chasing fungoes for twenty minutes every morning to get back in condition and that the ex-playboy of the American League is attending strictly to business. And Leo thinks the race will be decided by the pitchers.

The Lip thinks the Cards' pitchers will take a late season sag, with Gumbert and Warneke fading in the stretch. He respects the St. Louis sluggers but thinks Brooklyn's hitters will be able to break their plate power. "I'm not worrying about the hitters," said Leo. "We're beginning to clout the ball. Medwick and Camilli are going at last and Wasdell has been a great help. Tom Tatum gives us another right handed hitter and with Reiser back in shape next week and Wasdell and Walker hitting over .300, we'll be well taken care of at the plate."

"I think the pitchers will decide the race. I have Wyatt, Hamlin and Higbe doing great with Curt Davis and Casey, and now Allen and Tom Drake, in reserve to shoot for those extra games. I think Allen will be the surprise of the league because he's had more experience than the other spot pitchers. I'm planning on starting him against the second division clubs right now but he'll be ready for the stronger teams, I'm sure, next month."

Durocher also believes Allen's sudden shift from a lowly team (the Browns) to a winning club, pennant-bound, will give him the winning spirit he needs. Leo also believes his teams morale is better now than at any time during the season.

"We had lots of fight in '39 and '40 but it's been missing most of this season," was the Lip's rather surprising admission. "I don't know what was wrong but we weren't the same ball club. We're O. K. now, though, the team's finally found some fight and I think we'll win a tough race."

Did Mr. D have any preference on where the World Series should be played, the Polo Grounds, Yankee Stadium or Ebbets Field, assuming both the Dodgers' and Yankees' pennant dreams come true?

"I'm not interested in that," said the Lip. "I have enough to worry about winning the pennant. After we do, I'll play the series in a garage or on a ping pong court, if they want to."

GILLILAND AND WILDER VICTORS IN GOLF EVENTS

Two Pickaway Country Club golf matches were played Wednesday afternoon, moving victors into final rounds of First and Second Flight competition.

Tom Gilliland, club president, earned the right to meet B. F. McKenzie of Chillicothe for the First Flight title when he edged N. E. Reichelderfer one up on the nineteenth hole. The match was deadlocked at the end of 18, but Gilliland dropped a 10 foot putt on No. 1 for a par, while Reichelderfer missed a shorter one in an effort to score his par.

A. L. Wilder won from Robert Shadley, 5 up and 4 to go, in a Second Flight match. Wilder will meet George Gardner for the Second Flight title.

The club championship is in the semi-final stage, with Willis Liston and Dean Brooks scheduled to play 36 holes during the week end. The winner will take on Bob Friece in another 36-hole match for the title.

RED BIRDS GO FARTHER AHEAD BUT RUNS WIDE IN ASSOCIATION

By International News Service

The lead of the Columbus Red Birds in the American Association pennant chase again was increased to 2½ games today, as the Flock took care of Louisville, 6 to 4, while second-place Minneapolis was being edged by the last-place Milwaukee Brewers, 9 to 8 in 14 innings.

Frank Gabler, former New York Giant star now with the Birds, allowed only five hits while his mates were getting 11 bingles from a pair of Colonel hurlers.

Milwaukee had what it takes in their marathon with the Millers, coming from behind an 8 to 4 deficit in the eighth to count a pair of tallies then, another pair in the ninth to knot the score, and shoving over the winning counter while holding the Millers scoreless in the extra innings.

Toledo's four-game winning streak was snapped by Indianapolis, 5 to 2, behind the seven-hit hurling of George Gill, who chucked them for Toledo last season.

Third-place Kansas City also ran into a tartar when it tangled with seventh-place St. Paul, only to come out on the short end of a 10 to 2 score. The Saints counted seven tallies in the big fourth inning, while Vedic Himsl was limiting the Kaws to five hits.

VANDY VICTOR OVER ST. LOUIS

Lefthander Tough; Riddle Booked To Try For 12th Victory

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—The St. Louis Cardinals, with blood in their eyes and murder in their hearts, tangle with the Cincinnati Reds again today, vowing vengeance for the 5 to 1 defeat dished out yesterday which knocked the Cards out of the loop lead.

The win, which snapped the Reds' five-game losing streak coupled with the Brooklyn Dodgers' 3 to 1 victory over New York, sent the Cards into second by just three percentage points. Johnny Vander Meer scattered eight hits in recording his 10th victory, while Mike McCormick aided matters no little by poling a three-run homer in the third.

Mort Cooper will hurl for the Cards today, faced by the Reds' fair-headed boy, Elmer "The Great" Riddle, whose 11 and 2 record is the best boasted by any Redleg.

FELLER TO TRY FOR NUMBER 21; RECORD IS SET

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—Bob Feller, seeking his 21st victory of the season, went to the mound for the Indians today in the third game of the series with the Detroit Tigers hopeful there would be nothing resembling the nightmare the Redskins went through yesterday.

The Bengals scored only in one inning, the third, but that inning was enough to beat the Tribe, 11-2. Seventeen Detroit batters went to the plate in the weird frame, the most number of enemy batters to face Cleveland pitchers in one inning this year and in longer time than anyone cares to remember.

Six Tigers hit safely, seven walked and one got on by error as the Tigers hopped on Jim Bagby, Al Milnar and Joe Kraskauskas. Jim Benton, meanwhile, held the Tribe to six hits and two runs, both of which came in the seventh.

For the benefit of posterity, here is how it happened:

After Mack tossed out Sullivan, Croucher walked, Benton sacrificed and was safe when Hensley threw wild, Croucher going to third, Benton to second. Radcliffe walked, filling the bases, Gehring's single scored Croucher and Benton. McCosky tripled, scoring Radcliffe and Gehring.

Higgins hit a homer, scoring McCosky. Milnar replaced Bagby and walked Campbell and York. Campbell scored on Sullivan's single, York going to third and scoring on Croucher's single. Benton sacrificed and Radcliffe walked, filling the bases. Gehring walked, forcing in Sullivan.

Kraskauskas went to the box and McCosky singled, scoring Croucher and Radcliffe. Higgins walked but Mack threw out Campbell ending it.

ANY OFFENSIVE MOVE BY JAPAN TO BRING STRIFE

Singapore Authorities Say
All Preparations Made
For Emergency

Japanese detachments remained in Saigon.

(Editor's Note: Reports from Bangkok told of intense Japanese activity along the Thailand border. A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from the Thai capital said 10,000 Japanese troops drawn up along the frontier are feverishly laying out aviation fields.

(Other Bangkok advices said Japanese forces are massing along the banks of 100-mile long Great Lake on the Thai border, 230 miles southeast of Bangkok. (A dispatch from Hong Kong quoted Chinese dispatches as stating Japanese women and children working in factories in the Japanese-occupied cities of Canton, Swatow and Kong Moon have been ordered evacuated immediately because of the danger of possible air raids in the event of a Japanese expansionist drive to the south.

(This report added that the Japanese blockade of the Kwangtung province coast has been intensified and that only key points in that area are now guarded by the Japanese, thereby enabling Japanese troops to depart from southern China for "other fronts.")

Trucks Limited

Reports in Saigon said the Mekong River ferry on the road to Phnompenh is acting as a bottle neck and limiting the passage of trucks bearing Japanese troops to 80 a day.

As a result, these advices added, the Japanese are commandeering numerous barges and junks and are shipping considerable quantities of materials up the Mekong River.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A Reuters British dispatch from Singapore reported today that this Tokyo radio broadcast had been picked up at Britain's Far Eastern stronghold.

"War may come at any moment," said the dispatch.

"Britain is to blame... Thailand can protect herself."

Questioned regarding the dispatch, an authoritative British source said:

"The Far Eastern situation is increasingly acute. Thailand undoubtedly is in danger."

TOKYO, Aug. 7.—Charges that foreign powers of the ABCD (American-British-Chinese-Dutch) group were attempting to encircle Japan were made today by the influential and semi-authoritative newspaper, the Japan Advertiser.

"The ABCD scheme of alleged defense," the newspaper charged, "is in reality an offensive encirclement in Japanese eyes."

"There was no justification for it. Japan had a clear-cut policy of peaceful co-prosperity as outlined by former Foreign Minister Matsuoka."

Giving its own explanation of the Franco-Japanese defense deal for Indo-China, the newspaper said that the "situation aroused France's fears that the incident in Syria would be repeated."

IMPORTS INDIANS

HOLLYWOOD — There's a shortage of genuine redskins around Hollywood so Errol Flynn's studio had to import a number of Sioux braves from a number of reservations. The Indians were needed for Flynn's latest epic, "They Died With Their Boots On," a story of Custer's last stand. Arrangements to bring the Indians to Hollywood were made with the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the United States Department of the Interior.

The collapsible opera hat is also known as the Gibus hat, named for its inventor, a London hatter.

the purchase and installation of parking meters.

Councilman Reid's motion for a suspension of rules on the ordinance was seconded by Councilmen Helwagen, Gordon and Helvering checked the move to place the motion on the council floor for a vote.

The ordinance to provide for the purchase of the parking meters makes no provision for the number to be installed, although meter representatives have told councilmen that under the parallel system about 150 meters would be needed. Revenue taken from the meters will be placed in a Parking Meter Fund, from which fund will be paid the rental on the meters. Remaining revenue will go into the city's general fund for current operating expenses.

Despite completion of major legislation necessary for the parallel-meter parking program, officials say that it may be two months before the program can be put into operation. Bids for meters must be advertised. Scarcity of metal due to the National Defense program may hold up the order for meters once the contract is made.

Next move, council maintains, is to advertise for meter bids. Once the meters are supplied, the installation should be a comparatively easy job. Parking lines will be painted parallel to the curb, with 20 foot spaces marked off for each car.

No double parking will be permitted under the new system.

There were no disorders as mass picketing of the main gate of the plant got under way. Picket captains reported that there were only approximately 100 men within the plant. They were said to be maintenance men, manning pumps and boilers, and navy inspectors.

The sudden walkout stopped work on one cruiser, six destroyers, two freighters and three oil tankers. The union, however, said it would not interfere with the launching of the cruiser Atlanta, scheduled to go down the ways Saturday. A launching crew will be made available if the company requests it, CIO chiefs declared.

L. H. Korndorff, president of the shipyard, which is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, in a special statement charged that the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers had failed to live up to its pledge, made June 23, against strikes for a period of two years.

The promise not to call a strike on the Atlantic seaboard prior to June 23, 1943, Korndorff said, was contained in the Atlantic coast zone standards, to which both the union and the company agreed, and which were ratified by the secretary of the navy, the Maritime Commission, and the Office of Production Management.

Wages, under the standards agreement, were increased by 12 percent and have been paid at the increased scale since last June, the Korndorff statement said. Describing the strike as a "surprise" to company officials, the statement pointed out that the walkout will cripple defense production.

COUNCIL SETS POLICE LIMITS AT 22 TO 38

City Councilmen Wednesday night passed an ordinance changing the age limits for police applicants to 22 to 38 years.

Passage of the ordinance came after council had turned down an ordinance calling for a 21 year minimum, then voted to reconsider the ordinance. On reconsideration, the ordinance was amended to a 22 year minimum to conform with the age limits for city firemen applicants and the ordinance carrying the new amendment passed.

Difficulty in securing applicants for civil service examinations for patrolmen caused the change to be made.

NUNGSTER YOUTH FIRST 21-YEAR-OLD TO OFFER SERVICES IN U. S. ARMY

James Howard Nungster, Circleville Route 1, became the county's first 21-year-old to volunteer for service Tuesday. His order number is 8-75 and his is number 103 on the volunteer list. Nungster is the first volunteer the local board has received since May.

LOSSES CAUSED BY INSECTS

BERKELEY, Cal.—Contending that the United States loses a billion dollars each year in the destruction of food, clothing, housing materials and furniture by insects and rodents, Dr. William Herms, University of California scientist, believes the inclusion of trained pest control experts in the Army's quartermaster corps would prevent "needless" loss of valuable supplies and equipment during the defense emergency.

Library Notes

Five new teachers' reading circle books now are available at the Public Library, Daniel

Pfouts, librarian, announced Wednesday. Several others will be purchased by the library board before school opens this fall, the librarian said.

The books now available are:

Teacher and Community—By Dorman G. Stout. This recent publication deals with a fundamental concern of all educators: the interpretation of the schools to the whole community. The broad objectives of school-community cooperation are discussed and the programs and techniques that have proved effective are clearly treated. Dr. Stout recognizes that public cooperation is won by careful, continuous effort; he gives guidance and direction to the winning of public faith and support.

Lists of exercises and problems, provided at the end of each chapter, make the book valuable as a text in public-relations courses, study and discussion groups, or for any courses in community leadership and organization.

It's Nice to Know People Like You—By Harry W. Hepper. Here is a book on how to make the most of your personality and develop its potency in holding friends and winning the regard of other people. It is distinctive in inculcating a new pattern of thinking based upon sympathy, interest, and understanding of others as opposed to the aggressive self-seeking advocated by many writers. Its principles are psychologically sound and have stood the test of application to the needs of many individuals. It is written in simple language with illustrations drawn from every day situations.

Science For the Elementary School Teacher—By G. S. Craig.

Covering thoroughly and concisely the broad field of science, this book is organized so that the teacher with or without previous experience in science may begin teaching science immediately. Presenting basic principles in simple, direct style, it provides the background needed for explaining natural phenomena at an elementary level.

Exceptionally well indexed, the book is adequately equipped to provide teachers with basic information on almost any of the many subjects in which children are interested. It will be found useful in planning science instruction and valuable as a reference book for the many questions arising from classroom situations. There are more than 200 photographs and drawings in this book which was published in 1940.

Numerous Garments Reach Isles To Help Relieve Bomb Victims

MANY GROUPS ASSIST

Material Received For New Project To Start In September

Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, received the following acknowledgment from the Women's Volunteer Service for Civil Defense, London, England, through its secretary, Stella Reading:

"As Chairman of W. V. S. I want to thank every member of your chapter for the wonderful contribution you have sent to us, for the help it has been to every one who has suffered. The gifts received have made it possible to assist people who lost everything in the bombing of their homes. People who have not only lost their possessions but often members of their family as well. Clothing you have made is given to persons as they merge from the horrors of being bombed. I wonder if you realize how much each individual member of your organization has helped to strengthen the determination and courage of the recipients.

"It is for this reason that as chairman acting for the American Red Cross in matters of Civilian Relief that I thank all who assisted in matters for Civil Relief that I thank your chapter in behalf of those who benefitted by your generosity."

Shipment sent by the Pickaway County Chapter totaled 780 made garments and 26 sweaters. Included also were wool socks, mittens, golf knickers and hose wristlets and Swedish spiral hose.

Mrs. J. B. Work was chairman of garments, Mrs. W. E. Caskey, knitting and Mrs. Christian Schwarz, hospital shirts and operating gowns.

Son Of Mussolini Killed In Experimental Flight

Bruno, 23, Rated As One Of Country's Veteran Pilots

ROME, Aug. 7.—Bruno Mussolini, second son of Il Duce, one of the leading pilots in Italy's air force and veteran of three wars at the age of 23, lost his life today in an air crash near Pisa.

The young flier was killed when piloting an experimental type of fighting plane.

King Victor Emmanuel immediately sent a message of condolence to Premier and Signora Mussolini.

In announcing Bruno's death at 10 o'clock this morning, Italian officials disclosed that he took part in recent Italian dive-bombing attacks on convoys in the Mediterranean.

The young airman leaves a widow and a baby daughter.

Young Mussolini, a veteran of the Ethiopian and Spanish campaigns, was believed on active duty at the time. He had been flying with a bombing squadron since Italy's entrance into the war June 10, 1940.

The premier's son had been an aviator since May, 1935, when he became the youngest licensed pilot in Italy. He was then only 17.

Flew Atlantic

In 1938, Bruno Mussolini led an Italian air squadron on a 2,500 mile flight from Rome across the Atlantic to Dakar, French West Africa. The flight, which eventually ended at Rio De Janeiro, was an experimental journey to test the long-distance capabilities of Italian built war planes.

Bruno was the second son of Premier Mussolini. He joined the Fascist movement in 1927, when he was inducted into the Balilla, or junior corps, at Milan. In succeeding years he learned to fly and to drive high-powered racing cars, a pastime that his father enjoyed equally well until a short time ago.

With his elder brother Vittorio, Bruno took part in the 150-mile Agro Pontino auto race in 1937, finishing third.

As a full-fledged war pilot, Bruno was one of the first Italian officers to fly in the Ethiopian war. On two occasions, his plane was struck by bullets but he escaped unscathed.

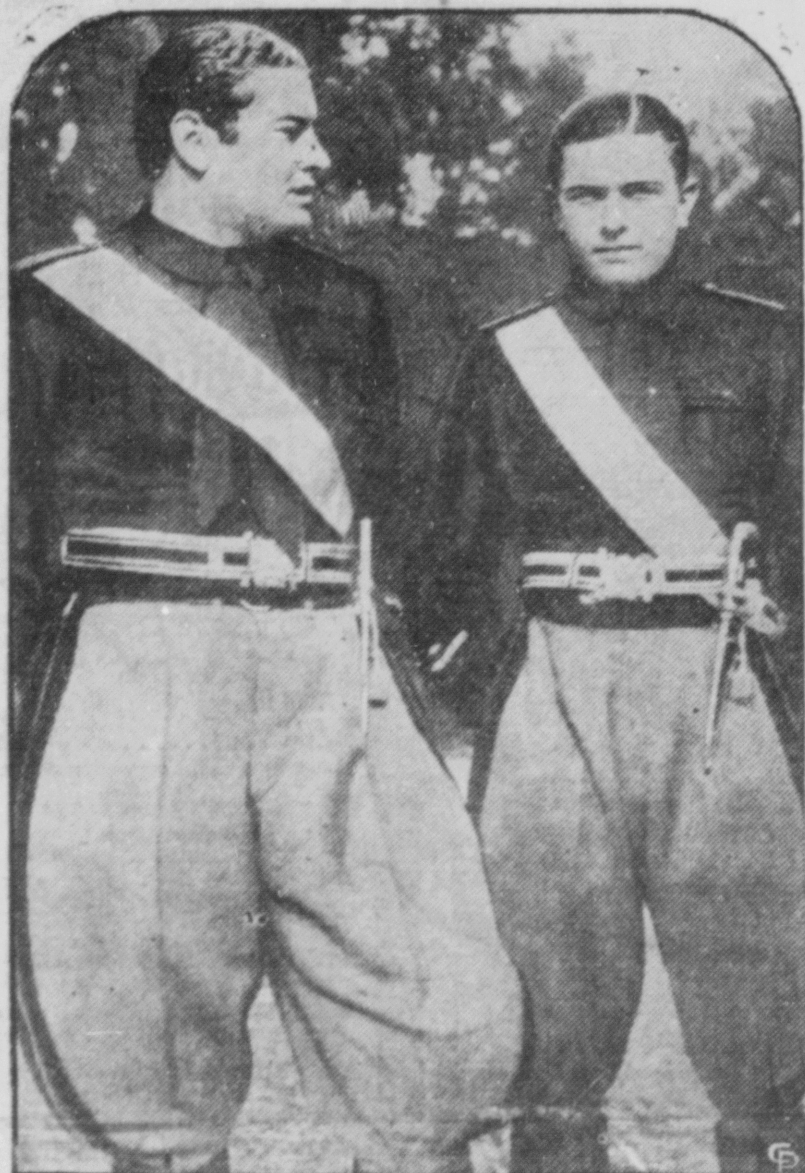

For six weeks during the Spanish civil war, Bruno flew as an Italian air force lieutenant as part of a force of some 500 German and Italian aviators. He was recalled to Rome in November, 1937.

False Report Made

In mid-December of last year, a false report from Athens said Bruno had been killed in a Fascist air raid on Salonika, Greece.

Young Mussolini was married in October, 1938, to Gina Ruberti, daughter of the director of the Italian department of fine arts.

MORE REPORTS U. S. KEEPS EYE OF PEACE MOVE ON VICHY MOVE BEING VOICED IN REICH FAVOR

LONDON, Aug. 7.—In a dispatch from Ankara, Reuter's (British) agency today reported intensification of a German peace offensive among business circles in Turkey.

The story is being circulated, Reuter said, that Germany now is prepared to make peace with Britain and will withdraw from all of western Europe except Alsace and Lorraine.

Russia would be occupied for 25 years, it was said, while Nazi Cultural Chieftain Alfred Rosenberg would head an independent Ukraine, while Italy would receive Abyssinia, Eritrea, Somaliland and Tunis.

FISHERMAN SLIPS FROM HIS SON'S FINGERS, DROWNS

LELAND, Mich., Aug. 7.—Lester Carlson, 31-year-old commercial fisherman, today told how his 63-year-old father slipped from between his finger tips and drowned in Lake Michigan.

Carlson and his father took to the water when their boat caught fire nine miles off North Manitou Island. They drifted and swam for hours.

The fisherman said his father finally collapsed and slipped through his grasp as his own strength gave way. The son was picked up later by a fishing tug.

HENDERSON URGES HIGHER TAXES, ENFORCED SAVINGS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today urged congress to enact a "much heavier" taxation program, to put into effect a system of enforced savings, and to omit all power to fix wages from the far-reaching price fixing bill.

The three-fold recommendations were made when Henderson testified before the House Banking and Currency Committee in support of the bill granting the President power to fix price and rent ceilings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The United States government, it was learned today, is seriously concerned over the situation that appears to be developing in Vichy.

Despite assurances of official Vichy spokesmen that France has no intention of turning over French African bases to Germany, diplomatic advices received by this government indicate that the Vichy regime, with the possible exception of Marshal Henri Petain, steadily is giving way to Nazi pressure for more complete collaboration with the axis.

The indications are such as to lead this government to fear that, despite official assurances, Vichy may permit the Germans to use French African bases, including Dakar, this winter.

In the face of strong German pressure for the return to power of former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, Admiral Francois Darlan, the present vice premier, is reported to be showing less and less resistance to the German demands. One informed source in Washington described the situation as an apparent race between Darlan and Laval to "give away Joseph's coat," the coat being France's colonial empire.

Marshal Petain is said to be badly broken up over the nature of the pressure Germany is bringing to bear on the French to prompt full collaboration with the axis.

SPRINGFIELD PLANT PUTS OUT RIFLE EACH MINUTE

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 7.—Production speed at Springfield armory today was at a rifle-a-minute clip.

Operation Of New Uptown System May Be Delayed For Some Time

A new parking system, voted by a city council that spent several months in thorough study of all proposals offered, was adopted Wednesday evening by a vote of four to two. Councilman Frank Lynch was ill and unable to participate in the important meeting.

The new system means that Circleville district motorists will park parallel with curbs in the business district, and that meters will govern the length of time used by each automobile in the uptown area, the latter ordinance having passed, four to three, several weeks ago.

Voting for the parallel ordinance were Councilmen George Crites, Julius Helwagen, J. Donald Mason and William M. Reid. Opposed were Clarence Helvering and Ben H. Gordon.

The new ordinance will provide for parallel parking on Main Street from Western Avenue to Washington Street and on Court Street from High Street to Mound Street. Also included under the parallel ruling are Watt Street, Scioto Street, Pinckney Street and Franklin Street.

Amendment Falls

Final vote came after Councilman Gordon had attempted to amend the ordinance to read diagonal parking instead of parallel.

"The parallel system will only add to our present congestion and will not solve our parking problem," he told his colleagues. He pointed out that additional revenue could be secured through the installation of more meters under the diagonal system. Gordon's amendment was dropped when he failed to get a second to his motion.

Vote on the parallel ordinance came after its third reading. Additional traffic legislation was stalled, however, when Council refused to suspend the rules and vote after first reading on an ordinance authorizing the service director to advertise for bids for (Continued on Page Nine)

U. S. SERVICE TO ENTER DISPUTE OVER SALARIES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—The United States Conciliation Service stepped into the limelight today in the wage dispute involving nearly 30,000 workers at the huge Vega-Lockheed aircraft plants in Burbank.

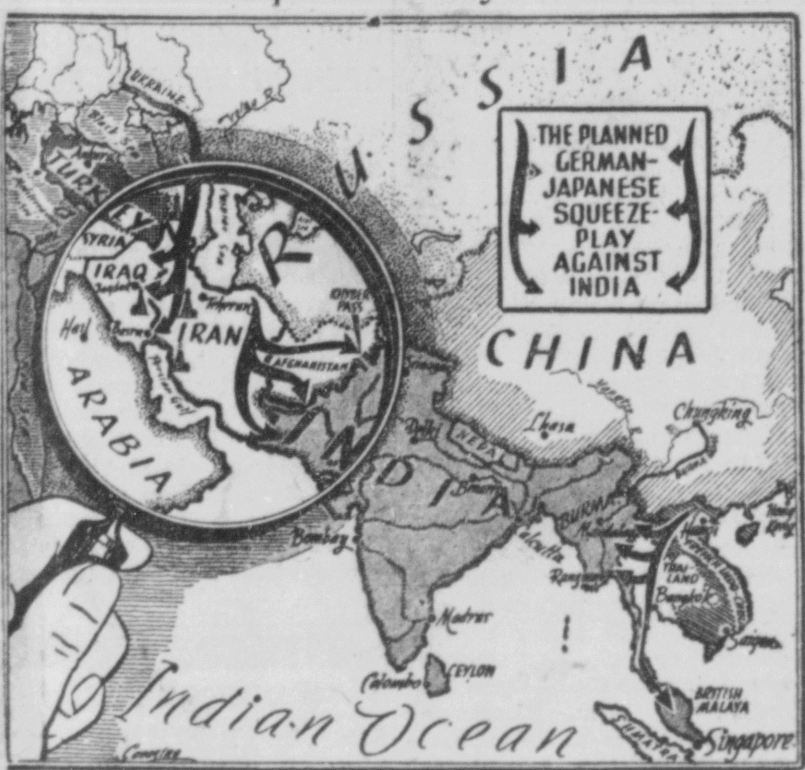

Conciliation Commissioners Lyman D. Sisley was named to mediate the case after the A.F.L. International Association of Machinists appealed to government officials.

In the first step to stabilize wages in Southern California aircraft plants, the affiliated Vega-Lockheed companies, offered a contract giving beginners 60 cents an hour and 75 cents at the end of three months. Union negotiations demanded 75 cents an hour starting pay and a 12-cent an hour blanket increase in all departments.

SOLDIER MISSING

A man who gave his name as Lester Jester, Circleville Route 1, on military duty in one of the southeastern states, was reported missing Thursday by military authorities. Anyone with information concerning his whereabouts has been asked to contact Miss Agnes Butch, Pickaway County Red Cross Secretary.

Axis Squeeze Play on India

SHOWN under the magnifying glass is Iran (Persia), where heavy infiltration of "German tourists" during recent months has alarmed Britain. Iran, as the map shows, is a gateway to India on one side and to the oil of Iraq and the Russian Caucasus on the other. Meantime Japan is reported demanding bases from Thailand, which would make a drive through Burma possible.

17,000 Laborers At Ship Yard In East Strike; Company Blamed

KEARNY, N. J., Aug. 7.—Work on defense contracts totaling $450,000,000 in the Kearny yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company was halted today when the CIO's Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers called a strike of the 17,000 employees.

Failure of the shipyard, second largest on the east coast, to accept National Mediation Board proposals for the settlement of a two-months-old labor dispute was cited by the union as the cause of the walkout. The CIO is seeking a union shop and reclassification of 1,500 employees.

The strike began officially at midnight when 3,000 men of the night shift left the yards at the end of their night's work and 3,000 others, scheduled to replace them, failed to report. Union leaders said none of the workers (Continued on Page Nine)

CAIRO — A death toll of 30 killed and 35 injured was counted in the Suez Canal area today following a severe axis night aerial raid. An official British announcement admitted "some property damage."

MELBOURNE, Australia

Australian Navy Minister W. M. Hughes today supported the United States and British warnings to Japan to refrain from any move against Thailand. "The position is in Japan's own hands," Hughes said. "We have done nothing and shall do nothing to disturb the peace. The Japanese can not imagine that Australia is powerless in the face of a threat to the empire's foundations."

HERE'S MAN WHO FINDS GASOLINE BAN COSTLY

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 7.—Instead of cutting down his gasoline bill the curfew has increased it tremendously, Harrison D. Dockray lamented today.

Dockray, who owns three automobiles, told police that since the curfew went into effect gasoline tanks of each of his automobiles has been drained at least once.

He estimates his loss at 40 gallons.

Ashville Persons Taken To Hospital; Driver Fails To See Freight Train

Two Ashville residents were injured Thursday about 9:30 a. m. when their automobile went onto the Norfolk and Western tracks at the West High Street grade crossing into the path of an N. and W. shifter that was moving freight cars from Dorney to the railroad freight house.

The caboose of the train struck the Ford coupe of Miss Margaret Clift, 78, of Ashville, who was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of numerous lacerations. Riding with her was Samuel Ryan, 65, whom she had picked up on her way to Circleville to shop. Mr. Ryan also lives at Ashville. His injuries are more severe, his face being deeply cut. He may also have a pelvis fracture, hospital attaches said. Both are under care of Dr. Ned Griner.

The fact that the train was traveling slowly is believed to have prevented more serious injury for both persons in the car. Railroad men reported that drivers of two trucks who were parked at the crossing tried to attract the attention of Miss Clift, but she said she was looking north and did not see the car coming from the south.

The car was carried about 50 feet up the track.

Three sets of signals were operating at the crossing at the time of the mishap, railroad men said.

The Rinehart ambulance took both the injured to the hospital.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP NORTH OF CITY

An auto accident on Route 23, thirteen miles north of Circleville, sent one woman to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, Wednesday night about 8:30 with a broken shoulder and head and leg injuries.

The victim was Miss Anna L. Hayes, 67, 2392 South Sixth Street, Columbus. She was taken to Columbus by the E. F. Schlegel ambulance of Ashville.

Miss Hayes was riding with Henry Sawyers of the same address when their automobile was struck from the rear by one driven by William Shortt, 29, Milner Hotel, Toledo, pushing Sawyers' car into a small building on the east side of the highway.

Sawyers told Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer that he had signaled to make a left turn off Route 23 near a roadside stand where he intended to make a purchase when the Shortt car struck him.

Shortt and his wife, Nancy, were on a vacation trip to Virginia when the accident happened.

MOTHER GIVES LIFE TO SAVE THOSE OF YOUTHS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—A 38-year-old Cleveland Heights mother of two young boys was dead today after her heroism prevented her sons from drowning.

When a Lake Erie undertow caught them 10 feet off shore at Geneva, Mrs. Evelyn Greenberg denied herself the safety of a life belt so it could be used to save her sons, Allen, 9, and Sheldon, 5.

Max Block, a nearby park employee, tossed the life belt to Mrs. Greenberg, who immediately pushed it to the boys. The children were pulled to safety.

Block then dove in and brought Mrs. Greenberg ashore where a physician was unable to revive her.

RUSSIANS DENY ARMY CRUSHED BY NAZI FORCE

Severe Fighting Goes On; Reich Certain Smolensk In German Hands

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Announcing vast new encirclement movements along the entire Russian front, German military headquarters issued a new official communique today stating flatly that Smolensk has been in German hands since July 16.

The vital city on the road to Moscow was taken by a motorized infantry division at bayonet point on that day and defended against continual enemy counterattacks, it was said.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Severe fighting on the Estonian battle front and on the sectors protecting Moscow and Kiev was announced by the Russian high command today.

A new Soviet war communique said:

"During the night our troops continued stubborn fighting in the directions of Smolensk, Belyatserkov and on the Estonian sector. "In other directions and sectors there were no major operations. "Our air force continued to strike blows at mechanized units and artillery and airdromes."

HIGH ARMY AND NAVY MEN GONE FROM CAPITAL

By International News Service
Absence from Washington of four of the highest ranking military and naval men in the United States today gave new impetus to the rumors that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill were meeting or were about to meet in a conference at sea.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Lieut.-Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the air forces, were not at their desks in the capital. Secretaries reported they did not know where the generals were. Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, also were absent.

Although there has been no confirmation from any quarter, either in London or Washington, that the heads of the two governments were meeting, the absence from the capital of America's high-ranking military men led to the belief that only a major conference could have called all the military men away from their posts at the same time.

A message from the presidential cruise ship, the U.S.S. Potomac, yesterday failed to give any clues. It briefly described the weather off the New England coast. Another bulletin from the presidential vessel was expected later today.

Singapore Authorities Say All Preparations Made For Emergency

CHINESE WILL ASSIST

Tokyo Hints Empire To Grab Thailand Bases At Earliest Chance

SINGAPORE, Aug. 7.—Great Britain's Far Eastern high command today announced completion of all preparations for an emergency.

An official communique issued by the Singapore Ministry of Information said:

"In Burma and South China, all preparations are ready to smash any attempt by the Japanese to cut the Burma Road or move westward."

Inclusion of South China as well as Burma in the British defense preparations was in line with previous announcements from London and Chungking that British and Chinese forces would operate in collaboration against any Japanese aggression aimed at cutting the Burma Road.

It is by way of the sea, Rangoon and the Burma Road that British and American war supplies are still reaching Chungking, deep in the fastnesses of China.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Chungking recently said that Chinese naval bases would be placed at disposition of the British fleet in event of extended hostilities.

Lieutenant General Percival, commander of British forces at this strategic Far Eastern stronghold, declared today that he favors close cooperation between Britain and the United States regarding Far Eastern policy.

U. S. Goods Satisfactory

He said war equipment arriving in Malaya from the United States is "most satisfactory" and that his troops are fit and "ready for anything."

(Editor's Note: The Japanese (Domei) news agency charged yesterday that the "British apparently are preparing to seize key points in Thailand if necessary."

(Domei said it based this charge on reports "claiming concentrations of Chinese troops on the Burma border, as well as disposition of British and Australian troops on the Burma-Thailand frontier, the landing of reinforcements at Singapore and other steps directed against Thailand as the immediate objective.")

BRITISH PLANES POUR BOMBS ON CALAIS DISTRICT

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Swarms of British bombers, flying at tremendous altitudes, rocked the coast of France again today after night squadrons had blasted the western Reich and enemy airdromes in France in fierce raids.

The latest assault apparently was aimed at Calais, Dunkerque and Ostend.

During the night, the RAF dispatched American-built night fighters on a mission of destruction over German airdromes in northern France. Bombs were dropped on runways and several hangars were set afire. The attack continued until daylight, and at dawn, fires were observed still blazing around Calais.

Renewing the giant aerial offensive, other squadrons carried out a series of slashing attacks on centers in western and southwestern Germany.

FIGURES ARE COMPARED

Week Of July 26 Puts Area Above Many Ohio Regions With Receipt Total

Continued gains in Circleville trading area business are revealed in another prepaid sales tax report submitted Thursday by Don Ebricht, state treasurer.

A week ago Pickaway County reports were high compared with figures from other counties of comparative size. This week the trend is even more marked with receipts being $1,969.06, compared with $1,285.78 for the same week in 1940, that ending July 26.

Tax receipts for the year have passed the $50,000 mark, the actual report as of July 26, being $50,587.28, about $4,500 more than a year ago the same week when the total was $46,074.71.

The state's total collection from sales tax sources to date is $33,775,788.95, compared with $26,775,004.74 a year ago.

The $1,969.06 collected for the week ending July 26 passes receipts in Madison Meigs, Mercer, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Paulding, Perry, Pike, Putnam, Union, Vinton, Adams, Brown, Carroll, Clinton, Gallia, Geauga, Harrison, Henry, Hocking, Holmes, and Jackson.

The $50,587.28 total keeps Pickaway ahead of Adams, Brown, Gallia, Geauga, Harrison, Hocking, Holmes, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Paulding, Perry, Pike, Putnam, Union, Vinton, Adams, Brown, Carroll, Clinton, Gallia, Geauga, Harrison, Henry, Hocking, Holmes, and Jackson.

Figures from surrounding counties include:

| County | 1941 | 1940 |
|-----------|--------------|--------------|
| Fairfield | $135,179.63 | $127,019.69 |
| Fayette | $69,854.67 | $58,366.95 |
| Hocking | $42,345.97 | $36,818.59 |
| Madison | $57,192.71 | $51,896.56 |
| Ross | $138,542.51 | $128,842.17 |

MOTHERS UNITE TO FIGHT LONG ARMY SERVICE

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Thousands of mothers from New York and other municipalities throughout the country will converge on Washington next Tuesday to protest against the administration proposal to keep draftees in the Army longer than a year, officials of Women United, organizers of the special trip, announced today.

"As American mothers, we cannot stand by passively and watch this country being led by a small minority into a bloody, ruinous foreign conflict," the executive committee of the organization declared in duplicate telegrams sent to Senator Reynolds, chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, and Representative May, chairman of the House Military Committee.

YOUNGSTOWN, O. PREPARES FOR LEGION CONFAB

State Convention Planned
For August 16-19 In
Eastern City

RESERVATIONS ARE MADE

Big Parade To Be Monday,
August 18; 19,200 In
Line Last Year

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 7.—The Ohio American Legion and this city, both greatly changed since their first meeting 21 years ago, will get together again August 16-19, when World War veterans and affiliated groups, representing a total membership of more than 75,000 converge here for the Legion's twenty-third annual state convention.

Youngstowners are looking forward to the event with something akin to trepidation since it will be their biggest convention in history. They are being warned that, for a brief time, the population of their city will be increased by 15 percent, and that for two days and nights their hotel and spare rooms in hundreds of private homes will be occupied by 3,000 to 5,000 guests.

Convention headquarters early this week already had made reservations for approximately 1,650 persons for two nights, but Chairman Paul L. Booth cheerfully announced that all room requests are being filled in the city and its far-flung suburbs.

The list of Legion delegates and officials alone totals almost 1,000, and other hundreds will be present to represent the Auxiliary units, the ubiquitous Forty and Eight and the latter's better halves—the Eight and Forty.

19,200 Last Year
High point of the convention, as usual, will be the annual parade, which is scheduled for 5 p. m. Monday, August 18. Last year at Toledo there were 19,200 in line. Since Youngstown is located in the most populous section of Ohio, within easy commuting distance of other large cities, the total in the parade here is expected to exceed 20,000, with 5,000 or more other visitors on the sidelines.

In terms which Youngstowners more readily recognize, this means that, for a day, their city will have as guests more people than are employed in those two giants of local industry—Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and the Republic Steel Corp.

Some of the Legionnaires, and thousands of elder citizens, will view these proceedings with a touch of nostalgia as they look back to the convention here in 1920.

They will recall that at that time only 700 veterans without uniforms, their own bands and the other now-traditional trappings of a Legion convention, gathered here. Grateful citizens, still basking in the prosperity of World War I, enjoyed entertaining them, enjoyed their youthful spirits and horseplay, their rambunctious parading and free spending.

City Booming

Today, those elder citizens, having passed through the tragic doldrums of the early '30's, and into an era of prosperity linked with National Defense, will present a revitalized boom city for the inspection of the veterans. Bessemer converters, operating on a 24-hour schedule, fill the night air with flame and smoke, and Steel City, with employment and payrolls both exceeding the lush days of 1929, is prepared to put its best face forward for the returning Legionnaires.

In the intervening 21 years, new buildings have sprung up around the public square, most of the major streets have been improved and widened, and a $5,000,000 airport has just been put into service. Metropolitan Youngstown, which now includes the whole of Mahoning County, has increased in population about 90,000 to 372,425 in 20 years. A whole new generation is ready to welcome the veterans.

There are more than 450 kinds of woodpeckers in the world.

Nazis Try New Drives in Russia

ARROWS on the above map indicate new drives launched by the German armies in a desperate effort to crack the Russian defense lines on the eastern front. While Moscow admitted that a new German salient had been formed in the direction of Kholm between Leningrad and Smolensk, Berlin claimed advances along the Moscow highway east of Smolensk and successful attacks 40 miles south of Kiev.

WATER DAMAGE HITS ESMERALDA

Over $600 Loss Estimated
Result Of Fire Scare
At Canning Plant

Water damage estimated at between $600 and $700 resulted Tuesday about 4 p. m. when a glue pot ignited paper cartons at the Esmeralda Canning Company, the fire opening the company's sprinkler system.

James I. Smith, manager of the company, said the fire started in the warehouse when a burning glue pot upset near a stack of canned goods. Damage from fire was slight, he said.

The flames were under control when the city fire truck arrived.

SPENDING OF OFFICIAL IN COLUMBUS STUDIED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7.—The campaign spending of a city official and a real estate transaction involving another were said to be under the scrutiny today of the Franklin County Grand jury, which is investigating gambling conditions in and around Columbus.

Frank Marsh, clerk of the county board of elections, was hurriedly summoned to the jury room yesterday at the hour when the jurors usually recess for the day. He carried a small package which he left in the room. Both he and prosecutor Frank J. Bartlett refused to divulge its contents.

The reason for Marsh's appearance, as well as that of several other witnesses, was a closely-guarded mystery. Bartlett refused to answer all questions, although intimating that the jury had no specific witnesses planned for questioning today, and that the jury was proceeding on a "day-to-day" basis.

The testimony of City Attorney John M. Lewis was said to concern the alleged real estate deal. An attorney, a property owner, and a real estate broker also were summoned before the jury, but they were not located and hence did not appear.

COUNCIL MOVES TO WIN BACKING FOR TAX LEVY

Active Campaign Set Up To Call Attention To City's Needs

DEPARTMENTS IN NEED

Eight-Hour Statute For Police Leaves Force Understaffed

Declaring that drastic curtailment of the city's current operating expenses would have to be made if the 1½ mill levy fails to pass at the Primary election next Tuesday, City Council Wednesday night inaugurated a campaign which it hopes will win support of the voters.

Within the next day or two, 4,000 handbills asking city voters to cast their ballots for the levy will be printed and distributed in every home in the city. Councilmen, police and firemen have agreed to cooperate in selling the public on the necessity of the levy. With the city's expenses reported cut to the minimum at the present time, only way in which additional reductions in expenses can be made is through cutting even more severely the city's police and fire protection. Street lights and the city water supply may even have to be shut off, some of the councilmen maintained.

Police in Need

One of the principal objectives of the levy is to secure revenue for the operation of the police department. To conform with the new state 8-hour a day law, city police have been placed under a new schedule which affords the residential sections of the city virtually no police protection either day or night.

Emmitt Crist, attorney for the police department, told councilmen at their meeting Wednesday night that the schedule under which the police force was operating was the most efficient that could be worked out with the present force, but pointed out that the department still was considerably understaffed.

Councilmen went on record Wednesday night as favoring the 8-hour day law and assured police authorities that if the levy passed and the funds could be secured, would be added to provide the city with adequate police protection under the new law.

Cost $3 Yearly

The 1½ mill levy will cost the average tax payer about $3 a year, councilmen estimate. The levy requires a 65 percent vote for passage.

HAYS MAY BE SUMMONED TO DISCUSS PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Movie Czar Will Hays may be called before a senate committee to testify on a proposed resolution calling for investigation of the motion picture industry to determine whether it is issuing war propaganda, it was revealed today.

Sen. Clark (D) Ida., chairman of a Senate Interstate Commerce subcommittee, said the group also might call leading picture producers before acting on the resolution. Dates for hearings on the proposal have not yet been set, he added.

Sen. Clark (D) Mo., introduced the resolution calling for the senate investigation of the motion picture industry. He charged that recent productions have contained propaganda designed to edge the United States into the war.

CADY, HERRMANN SUBMIT CITY, HOSPITAL REPORTS

A July report submitted to City Council Wednesday night by Mayor W. B. Cady, showed fines for the month to total $68.45; licenses, $2; fees, $8.70 and bonds, $280 for a total of $359.15.

Report of Berger Hospital for July showed receipts to total $1,110.70. The report was submitted to Council by Safety Director Karl Herrmann.

ETHEL MERMAN ADMITS MARRIAGE A MISTAKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Ethel Merman, Broadway musical comedy star, who was sued for divorce in Hollywood yesterday by William J. Smith, actor's agent, today said that "my husband and I agreed some time ago that our marriage was a mistake."

"Being in a show, I could not myself take the necessary action," she declared. "There is absolutely no rancor on my part. That is all I can say."

The couple married last November and separated December 5.

LABOR OFFICIAL HOPING FOR TIMKEN STRIKE END

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7.—Although two more women were injured in another clash between pickets and non-striking workers, Federal Labor Conciliator John L. Conner said that he believed a settlement might be reached late today in the walkout at the Columbus plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., holder of millions of dollars in defense contracts.

Marjorie Dixon, 24, and an unidentified woman, were injured, and two other women knocked down in the latest scuffle at the plant gates. Miss Dixon required treatment at White Cross Hospital.

Conner said that representatives of the OPM, the CIO's Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, and the company would attempt to reach a settlement at this afternoon's conference. The SWOC is striking in protest over the dismissal of five women workers on a charge they mixed parts.

NORTHEND GAS STATION LOOTED

Crites Co. Reports Crime; 25 Cartons Of Smokes Taken Away

Police Wednesday were investigating a break-in at the Crites service station on North Court Street. The break-in is believed to have happened early Thursday.

Police Chief William McCrady said a window in the rear of the building had been opened. Twenty-five cartons of cigarettes, cigars, chewing gum and candy were missing from the counter.

SHORT ILLNESS FATAL TO FAMOUS INDIAN POET, 80

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 7.—Rabindranath Tagore, famous Indian poet, died today after a brief illness at the age of 80.

Revered for the lyrical simplicity of his poetry, drama and essays, Tagore was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1913. He turned the prize money over to a school near Calcutta.

At the age of 79 he turned to the screen as an art medium and wrote an eight reel version of one of his plays, then acted in the motion picture.

CINCINNATI FIRM BUYS CITY GARAGE BOND ISSUE

A resolution accepting the bid of the J. A. White and Company of Cincinnati on the $2,000 bond issue for the purchase of the county garage building from county commissioners was passed by councilmen Wednesday night. Bid of the Cincinnati company was 2½ percent interest on the bonds. The county garage building was purchased by the city for the service department.

SOLDIERS' VOTES

MEN in the nation's defense forces who want to vote in November should begin at once to make whatever arrangements their respective state laws require for absentee voting. There is registration to be taken care of for those who have never registered. There are absentee ballots to be obtained from local election boards, and so on.

It would be a delicate attention on the part of admiring and loving relatives at home to find out exactly what routine is necessary and to send the information to their absent menfolk now. There is an inevitable amount of red tape in such matters. The sooner clear instructions are in hand, the quicker it can be unwound.

JUNKER CARS

FOR years Japan has been buying scrap iron from the United States. Out of the old cars in our junk heaps has been built much of the Japanese armament which has been used against the Chinese and that which may soon be used against ourselves. Now at last we are learning to use our own junk. The government has asked Ohio yards for the scrap from every car of 1932 or older to be melted into cannon and tanks. From 20 old jalopies a new tank can be constructed. Copper, brass, rubber and aluminum come from the old cars, also.

The OPM is making a test campaign in Ohio. Later there will be a national movement to increase the number of cars junked annually from 2,500,000 to 3,500,000.

It ought to help the roads and the domestic life-saving campaigns, too, to get another million of the old buggies out of the way every year.

ROOF-TOP FARMS

DOOR old New York! It has to grow its gardens on its roofs or its window sills or do without! There's Rockefeller Center, with a terrace farm eleven stories up. There were yellow onions now drying for use next winter. There are still growing cabbages and tomatoes, beets, carrots, parsnips, spinach and mint, Swiss chard, and lettuce. Of course the whole farm occupies but 400 square feet — which is about 10' by 40'. Perhaps it should rather be called a truck garden—there seems to be no mention of stock or feed. There is an orchard, however, of pear and apple trees, growing against a wall which separates the vegetables from a flower garden.

It's interesting to know that a vegetable garden of this size will support a family of four during the season, with something to put by for winter. It is

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

SELECTEES WEREN'T IMPRESSED

WASHINGTON — Most attentive listeners in the crowded Senate galleries during the debate on retaining selectees were little groups of sunburned, khaki-clad young men from the draft army.

On leave from nearby camps, they took time out to visit the August chamber and listen to the discussion that was deciding their future.

To find out what they, themselves, think about being kept in the army more than one year, the Merry-Go-Rounders interviewed one hundred of them as they left the Senate galleries.

All of those interviewed were from eastern states and represented practically every branch of the army. They were asked: "What do you think about the bill you have just heard debated?" Here are the results:

Almost without exception they said they wanted to return to civilian life at the end of one year's service.

About 30 percent were very emphatic that they should be "let out"; repeating Senator Wheeler's phrase that the Government was "breaking faith".

The remaining 70 percent, while desirous of returning home, were not insistent. About one-third of this group volunteered that they were willing to abide by the action of Congress.

SYNOPSIS

YLENA VARANOFF, young and pretty wife of THEODORE VINCENT, wealthy easterner, arrives in La Madera. She sends ROSE, housekeeper for VERNON STONE, the Vincent family attorney, back east to keep her informed about

CARLYLE, Ylena's little daughter, who is in the custody of Vincent's mother. Ylena meets two young men in La Madera. One

TATE CROMWELL, is arrogant, self-confident of his way with women. The other,

SCOTT HAMILTON, is a pleasant young dude rancher.

YESTERDAY: Ylena breaks her engagement with Tate and then goes on home—where she discovers Scott Hamilton waiting.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

PERPETUAL guardian, Ylena thought thankfully, and burst through the door. With a startled leap Scott landed on his feet, at the same time knocking to the floor his magazine and a wooden cooking spoon.

"Holy cow, Ylena, must you toss yourself into the room like a bomb and scare me out of my wits?" He grinned sheepishly and accepted her out-thrust hands, then kissed her cheek and took her fur coat. "Welcome home. And it's about time," he said with barbed sarcasm.

"It seems I've never been gone." Ylena murmured, looking about her with home-coming pleasure.

"To you, possibly, but not to me. And that reminds me." He slung away from her side. "I'm plenty mad at you. What the devil do you mean skipping town like an absconding banker and alarming your friends?"

Ylena took off her hat and the milk-banded jacket and sat down at the little enameled kitchen table. "I was trying to spare my friends a lot of worry." She eyed him closely. "What are you doing down here, anyway? Why aren't you up at the Northern Ranch?"

"That's a fine question." Scott tapped the ashes out of his pipe into an Indian ashtray of decorated clay. "How could I stay up there with Aunt Daisy telephoning every quarter-hour about you. For self-protection I came down. We got sticks and started beating the brush. When you wouldn't crawl out, Aunt Daisy wanted to drain the irrigation canals, but by then I just thought, to the devil with you, if you didn't have any more consideration for your friends than that."

"It was consideration for them that made me slip away."

"Ylena, apparently you don't know what friends are."

She smiled. "Yes, I do. They come in and water my beautiful geraniums and sweet potato plants and keep the clock wound and cook good-smelling food—and what's in the kettle, Scott?"

"A special concoction of mine. Scott-free soup."

Ylena winced at the pun. "I'll have a quantity. I missed dinner."

Scott's eyes traveled meaningfully over her. "All bedecked in a dinner gown and no dinner? Seems to me that's a strange garb to wear on the train."

"I didn't come on the train. I motored out. Vernon insisted I take back my car."

"Even so, it scarcely is the latest thing for motoring."

The girl replied stiffly. "You know perfectly well I didn't travel in this. So don't stand there like a cross-examining lawyer. I'll tell you everything while we eat." She stretched to a small built-in buffet

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

SELECTEES WEREN'T IMPRESSED

WASHINGTON — Most attentive listeners in the crowded Senate galleries during the debate on retaining selectees were little groups of sunburned, khaki-clad young men from the draft army.

On leave from nearby camps, they took time out to visit the August chamber and listen to the discussion that was deciding their future.

To find out what they, themselves, think about being kept in the army more than one year, the Merry-Go-Rounders interviewed one hundred of them as they left the Senate galleries.

All of those interviewed were from eastern states and represented practically every branch of the army. They were asked: "What do you think about the bill you have just heard debated?" Here are the results:

Almost without exception they said they wanted to return to civilian life at the end of one year's service.

About 30 percent were very emphatic that they should be "let out"; repeating Senator Wheeler's phrase that the Government was "breaking faith".

The remaining 70 percent, while desirous of returning home, were not insistent. About one-third of this group volunteered that they were willing to abide by the action of Congress.

DIET AND HEALTH

Sports and Work Activities Use Calories

● BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

We can't all go round with different kinds of meters on us to measure our health activities although a great many health authorities think we should. The great fundamental health measures are food and exercise and sleep and sunlight and air and philosophy.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Science, it is quite true, has learned to measure these mathematically (all but philosophy). We measure food and exercise by the heat-energy-unit, the calorie. Sunlight and air and sleep can be measured in various chemical, physical and psychological ways.

But we don't need to have temperature gauges, and respiration calorimeters, and illumination meters around us all the time. Nature has provided us with a way for telling whether we have had enough to eat or enough sleep or whether the air is bad, or whether we have enough light to see by. We don't always follow those dictates wisely (we may eat and exercise too much or sleep too little), but they are there just the same.

Calories and Sports

It being the glorious summer time and the favored time for exercise, it is rather interesting to know how many calories you use up in each sport.

A calorie is a certain amount of heat energy. A physically active woman uses about 2,400 calories a day; a physically inactive woman about 2,000. At an average meal you get about 800 calories. About

1,200 of your daily calorie expenditure goes to maintain your body heat. About 500 for ordinary activity, including exercise.

Different sports have different expenditures. It is astonishing that muscle tension takes up so many calories. Thus skiing going downhill, which is just keeping your muscles tense, takes 27 calories per pound per hour, as compared with horse-back riding, which takes 10 to 19. According to Dr. William Engel, in his book Sensible Dieting (A. A. Knopf, publisher), we use less energy when we let ourselves go—we can run 158 yards on 15 per cent less calories than we can walk it—I presume momentum comes into that.

Expenditure of Calories

Swimming 50 yards uses up about 5 to 7 calories, depending on body weight.

Dancing gives some weird figures—Rumba, 9 calories per hour. Big Apple, 11 calories per hour. Fox Trot, about the same as the Big Apple. While the Polka is away up to 17 calories per hour. You will burn up this many calories per pound per hour, in your daily activity if you are a:

Scamstress, 6 calories; typist, 25; housemaid, 60; laundress, 160; tailor, 50; metal worker, 150; carpenter, 165; stonemason, 300; sawing wood, 380.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Castle of Contentment

By LORENA CARLETON

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS

YLENA VARANOFF, young and pretty wife of THEODORE VINCENT, wealthy easterner, arrives in La Madera. She sends ROSE, housekeeper for VERNON STONE, the Vincent family attorney, back east to keep her informed about

CARLYLE, Ylena's little daughter, who is in the custody of Vincent's mother. Ylena meets two young men in La Madera. One

TATE CROMWELL, is arrogant, self-confident of his way with women. The other,

SCOTT HAMILTON, is a pleasant young dude rancher.

YESTERDAY: Ylena breaks her engagement with Tate and then goes on home—where she discovers Scott Hamilton waiting.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

PERPETUAL guardian, Ylena thought thankfully, and burst through the door. With a startled leap Scott landed on his feet, at the same time knocking to the floor his magazine and a wooden cooking spoon.

"Holy cow, Ylena, must you toss yourself into the room like a bomb and scare me out of my wits?" He grinned sheepishly and accepted her out-thrust hands, then kissed her cheek and took her fur coat. "Welcome home. And it's about time," he said with barbed sarcasm.

"It seems I've never been gone." Ylena murmured, looking about her with home-coming pleasure.

"To you, possibly, but not to me. And that reminds me." He slung away from her side. "I'm plenty mad at you. What the devil do you mean skipping town like an absconding banker and alarming your friends?"

Ylena took off her hat and the milk-banded jacket and sat down at the little enameled kitchen table. "I was trying to spare my friends a lot of worry." She eyed him closely. "What are you doing down here, anyway? Why aren't you up at the Northern Ranch?"

"That's a fine question." Scott tapped the ashes out of his pipe into an Indian ashtray of decorated clay. "How could I stay up there with Aunt Daisy telephoning every quarter-hour about you. For self-protection I came down. We got sticks and started beating the brush. When you wouldn't crawl out, Aunt Daisy wanted to drain the irrigation canals, but by then I just thought, to the devil with you, if you didn't have any more consideration for your friends than that."

"It was consideration for them that made me slip away."

"Ylena, apparently you don't know what friends are."

She smiled. "Yes, I do. They come in and water my beautiful geraniums and sweet potato plants and keep the clock wound and cook good-smelling food—and what's in the kettle, Scott?"

"A special concoction of mine. Scott-free soup."

Ylena winced at the pun. "I'll have a quantity. I missed dinner."

Scott's eyes traveled meaningfully over her. "All bedecked in a dinner gown and no dinner? Seems to me that's a strange garb to wear on the train."

"I didn't come on the train. I motored out. Vernon insisted I take back my car."

"Even so, it scarcely is the latest thing for motoring."

The girl replied stiffly. "You know perfectly well I didn't travel in this. So don't stand there like a cross-examining lawyer. I'll tell you everything while we eat." She stretched to a small built-in buffet

160 Grangers Present At Commercial Point Event

'Neighbor Night' Meeting Staged At School

One hundred and sixty grangers enjoyed the Neighbor Night meeting of Scioto Grange Wednesday in the Commercial Point school auditorium.

The visiting granges presented an unusually interesting program. Washington ladies' degree team exemplified the third degree work in an efficient and dignified manner; Star ladies' degree team performed an intricate drill forming the name of their grange in addition to many lovely figures; Hamilton Grange, Franklin County, presented a short program under the direction of Mrs. Besse Meeker, worthy lecturer.

Baskets of garden flowers were used on the stage and, each station had a small bouquet of colorful blossoms.

The evening business session was in charge of Dwight Bethards, worthy master. At this time Mrs. Merritt Dountz reported that Scioto Grange had won first prize for the float entered in the recent homecoming parade at Commercial Point. The prize was $27.

Ben Grace, chairman of the picnic committee, reported that the picnic would be Thursday, August 14, at Griggs and O'Shaughnessy Dams, near Columbus.

Mrs. Grace, lecturer of Scioto Grange, mentioned that the grange had been invited and had accepted an invitation to present three musical numbers at the Fayette County Pomona meeting Wednesday, August 13. This will be an evening session.

T. M. Glick, county deputy, spoke briefly on grange matters and announced the next traveling program for Friday, August 15, at Washington Grange. He also announced the quarterly meeting of the Pickaway County Pomona Grange for Saturday, August 16, when the all day session will be at Commercial Point School with Scioto Grange as host.

A dessert lunch was served during the social hour by Mrs. Agnes Hill, Mrs. Reba Hinton and Miss Alma Hudson, members of the lunch committee.

Emmett's Chapel Aid

Officers for the coming year were elected Wednesday at a largely attended meeting of Emmett's Chapel Aid Society at the home of Mrs. John Riggins, near Kingston. Mrs. Austin Wilson will head the organization as president. Her assisting officers include Mrs. John Miller, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Wilkins, treasurer, and Mrs. Clarence Maxon, secretary.

Large vases of gladioli in a riot of colors and many other summer flowers made the Riggins home a pleasant setting for the affair.

Mrs. Harry Wright, president, conducted the business session and led the devotions. Mrs. B. W. Young, chairman, Mrs. Cora Rader Hood and Mrs. Wilson made up the nominating committee.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Riggins assisted by her daughters, Mrs. L. A. Hole and Mrs. Charles Bennett of Columbus; Mrs. Charles Baldoser of Salt Creek Township and Mrs. Fairy Alkire of the home.

She mentioned as helpful the sales stamps received from several friends of the organization.

Specifically she told of donations of clothing and household supplies from 16 individuals and prepared food from two organizations.

The records of the association show the names of 95 families that were helped in some way during the month, according to Miss Southward. Food, donated and purchased, was furnished 14 families and 23 were on the daily milk list. Used clothing and other supplies were given to 78 families.

Today's Garden-Graph

Crab grass is an annual and at this time of the year the important thing is to keep it from going to seed, or at least to gather its seed in an effort to prevent or limit next year's crop.

Crab grass control calls for campaign

As shown in the above Garden-Graph, although crab grass is shallow-rooted it, will grow several feet high before it goes to seed; but where it is cut by the lawnmower it spreads out horizontally and then goes to seed. It is important, for this reason, to use the grasscatcher on the mower. Mow in both directions. Rake the creeping stalks erect and then mow again to catch them. In this way one can collect nearly all the seed as well as pieces of joints or nodes from the stalks which, if left on the ground, will take root and produce new plants.

The only other way of controlling crab grass in a lawn is by the use of chemicals which are toxic to the plants.

Late August and September are two of the best months for transplanting evergreens. To insure success, the ground should be thoroughly prepared before planting begins. It should be dug deep and enriched.

Rose gardens which are not mulched should be kept lightly cultivated. This, with persistent spraying and watering, will bring the plants back into full bloom as the weather gets cooler.

Durocher Sees Close NL Race

Not More Than Two And Half Games To Separate Top Teams; Allen Praised

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—"I think the National League race will be decided by not more than 2½ games and that with Johnny Allen helping our pitchers, Brooklyn has the stuff to win the pennant." That's the way Manager Leo the Lip Durocher, diamond genius of the Gowanus, summed up a red-hot pennant race today.

Durocher is sold on Allen, perennial play-boy, recently cast off by the lowly St. Louis Browns and bought by the Dodgers for only $7,500 last week. Leo thinks John is a very fine pitcher when he wants to be; and John, according to the Lip wants to be—very much — right now.

DAIRY, PACKER OUTFITS IN TIE IN LOOP JOUST

Neither side was victorious Wednesday evening when Blue Ribbon Dairy and Groce Packing Company softball players tangled in the game that was to decide the first round championship in the softball league. The contest was ended by darkness with the score tied at 7-7.

The game will be played off August 15.

The fray was a thriller, with some good and some bad softball exhibited, and the crowd was the best of the year, but no decision could be reached.

The Dairy outfit scored five runs in the third to overcome a one run deficit, but the Groce crew went ahead in the sixth with five bingles. The Dairy took the lead in the top of the seventh when two markers scored, but were tied in the last of the seventh with a single counter for the Groce team.

Wellington and Callihan were the opposing twirlers.

Don Valentine helped the Dairy cause with a home run.

Thursday's game will be between the Purina Chows and Circleville Oils.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 7.—A colt that cost $1,800 two years ago today is the highly-prized champion of three-year-old trotters and; if you ask us, worthy of a few extra oats at dinner for repeating a neat purse of $20,365.95 in the Hambletonian Stake. What's more Bill Gallon deserves a mint julep or two, for he brought a great moment to the deep south, to Driver Lee Smith of Dadeville, Ala., and Owner R. Horace Johnston of Charlotte, N. C.

It happens, however, that the blackish-brown colt by Sandy Flash was born in Hanover, Pa., definitely a part of the north—and first christened Ashley Hanover. Johnston bought him for the equivalent of a few bales of cotton and renamed the youngster in honor of an old friend, Textile Man Bill Gallon, another southerner. By time the trotter reached the $38,729.86 Hambletonian on triangular Good Time Park yesterday, his ability and renown had reached such proportions that the Johnston clan made it a holiday.

Seventeen of them, accompanied by three friends came up from North Carolina to see the event and, after losing the first heat, Driver Smith had to win the next two as a matter of self defense. He accomplished it in a way that did credit to both the horse and himself.

The trio is believed to have set a world's record in continuous play. It is estimated the golfers, left to right, George Sturgeon, Milt Rosso and Lloyd Wylie, covered 40 miles.

RED BIRDS GO WHIRLY WINNER, FARTHER AHEAD BUT RUNS WIDE IN ASSOCIATION IN SARANAC GO

By International News Service

The lead of the Columbus Red Birds in the American Association pennant chase again was increased to 2½ games today, as the Flock took care of Louisville, 6 to 4, while second-place Minneapolis was being edged by the last-place Milwaukee Brewers, 9 to 8 in 14 innings.

Frank Gabler, former New York Giant star now with the Birds, allowed only five hits while his mates were getting 11 bingles from a pair of Colonel hurlers.

Milwaukee had what it takes in their marathon with the Millers, coming from behind an 8 to 4 deficit in the eighth to count a pair of tallies then, another pair in the ninth to knot the score, and shoving over the winning counter while holding the Millers scoreless in the extra innings.

Toledo's four-game winning streak was snapped by Indianapolis, 5 to 2, behind the seven-hit hurling of George Gill, who chucked them for Toledo last season.

Third-place Kansas City also ran into a tartar when it tangled with seventh-place St. Paul, only to come out on the short end of a 10 to 2 score. The Saints counted seven tallies in the fourth inning, while Vedic Himsal was limiting the Kaws to five hits.

VANDY VICTOR OVER ST. LOUIS

Lefthander Tough; Riddle Booked To Try For 12th Victory

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—The St. Louis Cardinals, with blood in their eyes and murder in their hearts, tangle with the Cincinnati Reds again today, vowing vengeance for the 5 to 1 defeat dished out yesterday which knocked the Cards out of the loop lead.

The win, which snapped the Reds' five-game losing streak coupled with the Brooklyn Dodgers' 3 to 1 victory over New York, sent the Cards into second by just three percentage points. Johnny Vander Meer scattered eight hits in recording his 10th victory, while Mike McCormick aided matters not little by poling a three-run homer in the third.

Mort Cooper will hurl for the Cards today, faced by the Reds' fair-headed boy, Elmer "The Great" Riddle, whose 11 and 2 record is the best boasted by any Redleg.

ANY OFFENSIVE MOVE BY JAPAN TO BRING STRIFE

Singapore Authorities Say
All Preparations Made
For Emergency

Japanese detachments remained in Saigon.

(Editor's Note: Reports from Bangkok told of intense Japanese activity along the Thailand border. A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from the Thai capital said 10,000 Japanese troops drawn up along the frontier are feverishly laying out aviation fields.

(Other Bangkok advices said Japanese forces are massing along the banks of 100-mile long Great Lake on the Thai border, 230 miles southeast of Bangkok.

(A dispatch from Hong Kong quoted Chinese dispatches as stating Japanese women and children working in factories in the Japanese-occupied cities of Canton, Swatow and Kong Moon have been ordered evacuated immediately because of the danger of possible air raids in the event of a Japanese expansionist drive to the south.

(This report added that the Japanese blockade of the Kwangtung province coast has been intensified and that only key points in that area are now guarded by the Japanese, thereby enabling Japanese troops to depart from southern China for "other fronts.")

Trucks Limited

Reports in Saigon said the Mekong River ferry on the road to Phnompenh is acting as a bottle neck and limiting the passage of trucks bearing Japanese troops to 80 a day.

As a result, these advices added, the Japanese are commandeering numerous barges and junks and are shipping considerable quantities of materials up the Mekong River.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A Reuters British dispatch from Singapore reported today that this Tokyo radio broadcast had been picked up at Britain's Far Eastern stronghold.

"War may come at any moment . . ."

"Britain is to blame . . . Thailand can protect herself."

Questioned regarding the dispatch, an authoritative British source said:

"The Far Eastern situation is increasingly acute. Thailand undoubtedly is in danger."

TOKYO, Aug. 7.—Charges that foreign powers of the ABCD (American-British-Dutch-Chinese) group were attempting to encircle Japan were made today by the influential and semi-authoritative newspaper, the Japan Advertiser.

"The ABCD scheme of alleged defense," the newspaper charged, "is in reality an offensive encirclement in Japanese eyes."

"There was no justification for it. Japan had a clear-cut policy of peaceful co-prosperity as outlined by former Foreign Minister Matsuo."

Giving its own explanation of the Franco-Japanese defense deal for Indo-China, the newspaper said that the "situation aroused France's fears that the incident in Syria would be repeated."

IMPORTS INDIANS

HOLLYWOOD — There's a shortage of genuine redskins around Hollywood so Errol Flynn's studio had to import a number of Sioux braves from their Dakota reservation. The Indians were needed for Flynn's latest epic, "They Died With Their Boots On," a story of Custer's last stand. Arrangements to bring the Indians to Hollywood were made with the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the United States Department of the Interior.

Effect Of Low Oxygen Air

BERKELEY, Cal. — By studying reactions of rats kept in a chamber in which the amount of oxygen was controlled, Dr. Nathan W. Shock, assistant professor of physiology, has found that breathing of air low in oxygen—such as that at altitudes of 12,000 feet or more—decreases the capacity to learn and the ability to act.

the purchase and installation of parking meters.

Councilman Reid's motion for a suspension of rules on the ordinance was seconded by Councilmen Helwagen, Gordon and Helvering checked the move to place the motion on the council floor for a vote.

The ordinance to provide for the purchase of the parking meters makes no provision for the number to be installed, although meter representatives have told councilmen that under the parallel system about 150 meters would be needed. Revenue taken from the meters will be placed in a Parking Meter Fund, from which fund will be paid the rental on the meters. Remaining revenue will go into the city's general fund for current operating expenses.

Despite completion of major legislation necessary for the parallel-meter parking program, officials say that it may be two months before the program can be put into operation. Bids for meters must be advertised. Scarcity of metal due to the National Defense program may hold up the order for meters once the contract is made.

Next move, council maintains, is to advertise for meter bids. Once the meters are supplied, the installation should be a comparatively easy job. Parking lines will be painted parallel to the curb, with 20 foot spaces marked off for each car.

No double parking will be permitted under the new system.

There were no disorders as mass picketing of the main gate of the plant got under way. Picket captains reported that there were only approximately 100 men within the plant. They were said to be maintenance men, manning pumps and boilers, and navy inspectors.

The sudden walkout stopped work on one cruiser, six destroyers, two freighters and three oil tankers. The union, however, said it would not interfere with the launching of the cruiser Atlanta, scheduled to go down the ways Saturday. A launching crew will be made available if the company requests it, CIO chiefs declared.

L. H. Korndorff, president of the shipyard, which is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, in a special statement charged that the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers had failed to live up to its pledge, made June 23, against strikes for a period of two years.

The promise not to call a strike on the Atlantic seaboard prior to June 23, 1943, Korndorff said, was contained in the Atlantic coast zone standards, to which both the union and the company agreed, and which were ratified by the secretary of the navy, the Maritime Commission, and the Office of Production Management.

Wages, under the standards agreement, were increased by 12 percent and have been paid at the increased scale since last June, the Korndorff statement said. Describing the strike as a "surprise" to company officials, the statement pointed out that the walk-out will cripple defense production.
